'Watchdog' UN Team To Lebanon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN Security Council decided today to speed an international watchdog team to settle the Lebanon to seal off its borders with the United Arab Republic.

A threatened Soviet veto did not materialize. The observer group would have the mission of guaranteeing that no arms or other military aid reaches Lebanese rebels from the UAR. Lebanon had complained to the 11-nation council that President Nasser was threatening Lebanese independence by meddling in its internal politics. The UAR had denied the charges. UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld who was given the task of organizing and dispatching the observers, was expected to move quickly to carry out his assignment.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Military sources here said Lebanese army artillery pounded the eight-century-old citadel in Tripoli to ruins today in the biggest battle in the city since the Lebanese rebellion started there more than a month ago.

No Major Change In Royal Tour

The complete itinerary for Princess Margaret's visit to B.C. next month was released today by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

The premier explained no major changes have been made in the tentative routing outlined earlier, despite protests from Vancouver that Victoria and the Okanagan were being favored with longer royal visits.

The premier explained Victoria and Kelowna were chosen as points where the princess would most require a rest in her tour.

The Victoria visit extends from July 12 to July 16.

Premier Bennett said the fact the rest periods occur in the capital and the premier's home riding, were beyond his control.

The choice was "not by the premier," he said.

He said the rest periods became necessary after the federal government asked the royal tour be extended two weeks in order that prairie and eastern points could be visited.

MORE REST HERE

"This much longer, more intensive program, meant more rest would be required during the B.C. section of the tour."

"This will be especially so following Princess Margaret's arrival in Victoria, after her long flight from England, and also during the middle of her B.C. travels, when she has specifically requested a weekend of rest in the Okanagan."

Premier Bennett said the itinerary "... not only will afford the maximum opportunity for the princess to see our province and its people, but for the people to see Her Royal Highness."

"Unlike previous visits by members of our royal family, which have been limited to Vancouver and Victoria areas, this one is extended through British Columbia, to comply with Her Royal Highness' personal request to see as much as possible of our province."

KOOTENAYS DROPPED

He added, the provincial government regrets the princess will not be visiting the Kootenays "... as originally planned by us."

He said the reason was solely because airfields available for the trip to the Kootenays were not considered adequate "by authorities other than those in B.C."

There was speculation earlier, the Kootenays were avoided as a security measure, due to recent terrorist activities there.

"The entire tour has been planned with a view to the least possible officialdom," he said.

The premier said the tour allows the princess generous "free time" for drives around various centres, or so "she can do as she wishes, and allow many opportunities for people, principally the children, to see her, and many opportunities for her to see the people."

Victoria, as the seat of provincial government will provide the longest session of hand-shaking and curtsying of the entire trip.

At 10:40 a.m., Monday, July 14, the princess will visit the Legislative Buildings.

WILL MEET 170

There, a total of 170 cabinet ministers, members of the legislature, deputy ministers, holders of the Victoria Cross, centennial committee members and Continued on Page 32

Fresh Try By Ottawa On Strike

The federal government is to try again to settle the B.C. coast steamship strike.

Justice Minister Davie Fulton said in Vancouver today search for a "compromise or agreement" settlement between the Seafarers' International Union and Canadian Pacific will be made "at another level."

He explained that Eric Taylor, the federal government mediator who failed to bring the striking seamen and the CPR together at the local level, will put the situation before federal labor department officials in Ottawa.

"The government is extremely concerned," Mr. Fulton said. "I have seen people interested in and affected by the strike. It comes at a bad time for Victoria centennial celebrations."

CPR REJECTS BID

Meanwhile it was learned unofficially today that J. N. Fraine, vice-president of the CPR's western region, rejected a suggestion Tuesday that the company offer the union pay increases amounting to 16 per cent.

This is double the long-standing CPR offer. The union has been asking for 25 per cent, but business agent Norman Cunningham is understood to have been sympathetic to a slight reduction in the SFU demand.

Both Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Fraine met separately with Works Minister W. N. Chant Tuesday, but no statement was issued of the outcome.

However, Mr. Fraine has termed the talks "worthwhile," while Richard Greaves, who attended the morning meeting as secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers, told the Times he was "pessimistic" that the Chant meetings will have any effect on the strike.

GROUP DISAPPOINTED

In Victoria, members of Mayor Percy Scurrah's citizens' action committee were not optimistic about the outcome of a meeting Tuesday with the B.C. cabinet.

Hugh Stephen, president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said today, "I can't say the meeting gave us any new hope. The cabinet has been doing as much as it can within its scope, but now it looks as though we have come to the end of the road. We must try and salvage as much as we can. Federal intervention is now the only solution."

West Military Might Praised by Macmillan

IKE SCORES MAJOR WIN ON FOREIGN TRADE BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives, handing President Eisenhower a major legislative victory, today passed and sent to the Senate a bill continuing the reciprocal trade program for another five years.

In doing so, it crushed an attempt to limit the program to two years and restrict the president's trade and tariff-making authority.

Angry de Gaulle Warns Algerians

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle bluntly told defiant insurgents in Algeria today to quit interfering in government and reprimanded his military commander there.

De Gaulle sent a sharp note to Gen. Raoul Salan after a cabinet meeting devoted mainly to foreign affairs.

A cabinet spokesman said one decision was to invite U.S. State Secretary Dulles to Paris next month. Other sources said the talks might be broadened to include Prime Minister Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Tentative date was given as July 5.

While these talks would concern the Western alliance, de Gaulle's most immediate problem was to restore his authority over Algeria.

De Gaulle replied sharply to a resolution by the All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety opposing his plan for local elections in Algeria and condemning parliamentary government in France.

De Gaulle criticized Salan for letting his name be used as approving the committee action, even though Salan later disavowed the resolution.

In Washington, the state department declined to say whether de Gaulle's invitation has been received. Diplomatic sources, however, reported an invitation had been forwarded to Dulles and might be discussed at Dulles' meeting there today with Macmillan.

Department officials privately pointed out that Dulles will accompany President Eisenhower on a visit to Ottawa July 8-10. The possibility of a quick trip to Paris on July 5 before the journey to Canada cannot be excluded, officials said.

NORAD Pact Sparks Row In Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons was to resume debate today on the Canada-U.S. agreement establishing the North American Command NORAD, which Defence Minister Pearson says has, as yet, no Canadian forces to command.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Opposition Leader Pearson joined in Tuesday's opening round on the matter, which has been causing contention since last summer.

But the topper came at the end of the sitting. With minutes to go, Mr. Pearson disclosed that no RCAF squadrons have yet been allocated to the command at Colorado Springs, Colo.

CANT START WARS

The RCAF has nine jet intercepter squadrons in Canada and under terms of the agreement, NORAD includes only "such combat units as are specifically allocated to it by the two governments."

Earlier the prime minister, in a long, detailed outline of the agreement, said NORAD "will not and cannot start wars."

Mr. Pearson said the Liberals don't doubt for a moment the need and desirability of collective defence.

The NORAD agreement is not a surrender of Canadian sovereignty, but an example of making Canadian sovereignty "work for us" by joining with the U.S. for a strong collective security, Mr. Pearson said.

The Liberal party demanded a chance for Parliament to examine the agreement because of the procedures the government followed in bringing it about.

But the way the government had handled the agreement over the past months might be described as a "comedy of confusion and contradiction."

Tornado Death Swath Leaves Trail of Ruin

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP)—A tornado turned its fury on El Dorado late Tuesday, killing 14 persons and injuring 57. The twister cut a swath 14 blocks long and a quarter of a mile wide along the southwest edge of this city of 12,000. It destroyed or damaged 150 homes.

It swept away four main electric power lines, plunging the city into darkness. Telephone lines were severed and municipal water mains broken in several places.

While doctors worked by the feeble light of candles and flashlights at El Dorado's only hospital, state militia helped police patrol the streets.

SUBSIDY STUDY ASKED IN FERRY STRIKE

B.C. Senator Urges Arbitration

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Sidney J. Smith (L. British Columbia) today proposed a form of compulsory arbitration to end the West Coast strike tying up CPR vessels operating between Vancouver Island and the Mainland.

Senator Smith, speaking in the Senate throne speech debate also said if an investigation shows that the CPR cannot operate the service at a profit "consideration should be given to negotiating a satisfactory subsidy in order to revive the vital service."

"... It is my specific suggestion that Parliament should immediately pass a law extending the period of the collective agreement between the CPR and the Seafarers' International Union (CLC) until such time as the parties can agree upon the terms of a new collective agreement," Senator Smith said.

"This course was successfully followed by a previous administration when both our transcontinental railways went on strike and the trains began to run in a matter of a few days."

Senator Smith described the strike which started May 16, as "just terrible" and a "national calamity." He said it had already cost the Vancouver Island tourist industry more than $2,000,000.

Senator Smith said a Vancouver report that the CPR is considering a British offer to buy part of its West Coast steamship fleet "is the most alarming item in this gloomy story of the steamship tieup in British Columbia."

"It now is a tragedy to learn that sale of the Pacific Coast fleet of the CPR is being considered," he said.

'Not Guilty' Plea by B.C. Navy Officer

HALIFAX (CP)—Capt. Dudley King, 48, of Wilson's Landing, B.C., pleaded not guilty today, before a naval court to a charge of negligently hazarding the Algonquin Jan. 26 when it collided off Bermuda with another destroyer, the Nootka.

The court martial opened before the judge-advocate, Cmdr. H. C. Fern.

The ships were on manoeuvres when the crash occurred. Damage was slight. Capt. King is commander of the First Canadian Escort Squadron, headed by the Algonquin.

Gordon Black, a Halifax lawyer, is defence counsel while the prosecution is headed by Commodore J. V. Brock.

He accused the federal government of not taking the West Coast strike situation seriously.

"As evidence of this lack of interest, I would remind you that there are 18 government members—including three ministers from B.C.—who have shown no appreciable interest."

Senator Smith said the terms of reference of federal mediator Eric Taylor are too restricted to enable him to bring about a settlement.

"If the government has a sincere desire to bring an end to this strike they will extend the terms of Mr. Taylor's commission so that he can deal with all disputes involved in the tieup."

He said press reports from the West Coast state that the CPR has been losing money on the operation.

"Perhaps they have been losing money. Perhaps they have been saving money during the weeks that their ships have been tied up and they may not be too anxious to see the strike settled."

Broad Plans Revealed To Develop Far North

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA — Broad plans for development of the Canadian Far North and other aspects of resources exploitation and conservation were outlined Tuesday by Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton.

The minister, who also holds the northern affairs portfolio, told the House mines, forests and waters committee that:

1. The federal government plans to maintain full sovereignty over the farthest-north Arctic reaches and utilize them fully for commercial, research and other purposes.

2. New regulations for oil and gas exploration in the Northwest Territories, aimed at giving incentive to companies and also preserving much of these resources under public ownership, may be expected in two or three weeks.

National Conference To Be Delayed

3. A proposed national conference on resources conservation probably will not be held until next winter, though originally planned for the fall.

4. The federal government has reached "complete agreement in substance" with B.C. and Saskatchewan on the joint financing of access roads to new resources, and also has authorized Manitoba to go ahead with two road-building agreements. B.C. and Saskatchewan projects are under way.

5. The government plans to collect all available data on resources south of Great Slave Lake, so that the railways can choose the route offering the best possibilities for a line to the south shore of the lake at Pine Point, N.W.T.

As the committee examined the 1958-59 estimates of his department, Mr. Hamilton laid particular emphasis on developments in the far north.

Of the Arctic territory far up towards the Pole, he said the government intends to let the whole world know it is part and parcel of Canada and would like to see activities there multiplied 10 or 20 times.

There should be no doubt that Canada intends to utilize the territory fully.

The House Tuesday gave second reading to the first batch of divorce bills to reach it this session, but not before Erhart Regier (CCF, Burnaby-Coquitlam) reiterated his party's objections to Parliament handling such petitions.

There was no individual discussion of the 14 bills as they received approval in principle, but Mr. Regier said the CCF hopes the Conservative government will find some other way to deal with divorces from Quebec and Newfoundland, which have no divorce courts.

An object that fell from the sky recently near Timmins, Ont., has been identified as a U.S. weather instrument, Defence Minister Peakes said on Tuesday.

Mr. Peakes was replying to Murdo Martin (CCF, Timmins), who asked what the "mysterious" object was.

An appeal to the government to give Canadians a "bonus dollar" by returning to the gold standard was sounded in the Senate Tuesday night.

Senator Arthur Roebuck (L- Ontario) also said in the Senate throne speech debate that the way to beat inflation is to reduce the "intolerable burden of excessive land values" and to create more international trade through abolition of tariff barriers.

"I am for the honest dollar, one which purchases as much today as it did yesterday and will tomorrow," he said.

An investigation has been launched by the federal transport department into the week-end drowning of five RCMP officers on Lake Simcoe in central Ontario, Transport Minister Hees said Tuesday.

"Such an investigation is already being undertaken," he replied to Lionel Chevrier (L-Montreal Laurier), who asked whether one would be made under the Canada Shipping Act.

Canada has not been invited to send a representative to planned talks among East and West scientists on policing of a ban on atomic tests, External Affairs Minister Smith said Tuesday.

He was replying to Opposition leader Pearson, who said delegates from the United States, France and Britain are expected to attend the meeting with Soviet representatives.

Creative Writing Course by UBC First in Canada

VANCOUVER (CP) — The University of B.C. announced today it will introduce a major course in creative writing this fall, the first ever offered by a Canadian university. Professor Roy Daniells, head of the UBC English department, said the new major will make the university's writing program the most extensive in Canada.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The on-again off-again Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial is going to be a record-breaker in point of time for a B.C. Assize Court jury trial. And it may even outstrip the recent record of 43 days for a non-jury trial.

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson was forced Tuesday to call another three-day adjournment in the case until Monday due to the illness of one of the three women on the jury.

It was the fourth halt since the case involving former lands and forest minister Robert Sommers, three other individuals and four companies began 22 days ago.

Monday the trial will start its 23rd day, which will equal the recent Assize Court time record for a jury trial set in a gas combines case in 1955.

Prosecutor Victor Dryer has many documents yet to enter and a number of witnesses yet to call. And the defence side of the case to be conducted by a battery of six defence lawyers is expected to take at least two weeks.

With this in mind court officials see the possibility of the trial outstripping the recent marathon trial record of 43 days set in a paper combines case without a jury in 1954-55.

WOMAN JUROR

The woman juror, whose illness Monday caused a half-day adjournment, became suddenly ill again Tuesday afternoon and dashed from the jury box. Mr. Justice Wilson said she had made a gallant effort, but was "very ill" and it was necessary to put the case off until Monday.

Gunmen Take $6,600 From Toronto Bank

TORONTO (CP) — Three masked gunmen escaped with more than $6,600 after herding the manager, nine of his staff and two customers into a vault at a west-end Canadian Bank of Commerce branch here Tuesday. They escaped in a car driven by an accomplice.

Works Program As Cure Big Problem Expert Says

OTTAWA (CP) — The trade department's economic adviser suggests it would take a break with tradition and the erection of a vast administrative machine to try to cure unemployment and recession through a program of expanded public works.

Dr. O. J. Firestone reached that conclusion in completing one of the most comprehensive historical analyses ever made of the Canadian economy. His analysis, pointing up some of the more spectacular developments since Confederation, has just been published in London, England, under the title, Canada's Economic Development, 1867-1953.

SHOULD BE WARNING

It makes no reference to the Progressive Conservative government's present drive to fight recession through public works and in fact deals with trends only up to 1953 when the Liberals were in power. But some of the conclusion drawn by the economist may have implications in the current situation.

Over the years, said Dr. Firestone, governments have tended to place declining proportions of their over-all spending in public investment programs. The average for all levels of government dropped to 15 per cent in the 1950-53 period from 20 per cent in 1929.

"These data should be a warning to those who expect great miracles from an expanding public investment program in a period of declining levels of employment and income."

GREATER EFFECT NOW

"Only a small part of government expenditures on goods and services has in this generation been devoted to public investment undertakings. A substantial change would necessitate not only a departure from traditional policies but also the establishment of an extensive administrative apparatus specifically concerned with the implementation of a large-scale public investment program."

Over the decades, Dr. Firestone found that government spending generally had an increasing impact on the economy without centralization.

In 1953 government spending on goods and services amounted to 18 per cent of all spending, compared with only 4½ per cent in 1870.

"Obviously, then, government through direct spending affects economic activity to a much greater extent than at the time of Confederation."

Big Soviet Jet Coming to B.C.

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Inviting a Russian plane to fly across Canada can cause all kinds of complications.

Russia's fast flying TU104, a twin-jet passenger aircraft, will fly from Moscow to Vancouver to take part in the B.C. centennial celebrations.

According to the Russian embassy the schedule calls for the plane to land Friday at Winnipeg's Stevenson Airfield. It will arrive at Vancouver late Friday, and leave Vancouver Monday.

The department of external affairs together with the departments of national defence and transport come into the picture because of the Winnipeg landing. John Taylor, Conservative member of parliament for Vancouver Burrard and a member of the B.C. centennial committee, thought it would be a relatively simple matter to invite the Russians to send their famous plane to Vancouver—now he knows better.

Planes to Attack Hopper-Infested East Colorado

DENVER (AP) — Nine air-planes will fly over 9,000,000 acres of eastern Colorado today, spraying poison over grasshoppers infesting crops and pastureland.

A bigger effort to save the wheat crop valued at $110,000,000 will be made Thursday.

The hopper invasion is considered critical in six counties and almost as serious in 11 others. The insects numbering as many as 400 a square yard must be killed by June 15, state officials said, or the wheat crop will be destroyed.

World Civil Service

NEW YORK—The senior Canadian on the United Nations secretariat has been entrusted with one of the pet projects of secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld. This is the establishment of a new kind of international civil service which he hopes to establish under the direction of Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, who retires this summer as director-general of the UN Technical Assistance Administration.

If approved, as expected by the member governments, the international civil service will be established to provide trained administrators who will work with the governments of underdeveloped countries where the shortage of administrators has proved as serious as the shortage of money. In the early days of the UN it was assumed that development could be started fairly easily by sending in money, machines and mechanics. The mechanics would show the local people how to run the machines and then go home. The people were assumed to be capable of spending the money without instruction. Experience showed that things weren't as easy as this. Often they couldn't spend the money properly, let alone run the machines.

In China, for example, the UN Relief and Rehabilitation Organization—UNRRA—set up mechanized collective farms but, as soon as the foreign experts left, the tractors remained in the fields and rusted. When the Communists took over they subdivided the land among the peasants, and the tractors were communal plots because there wasn't the know-how to do anything else.

Food sent out by the UN often went into black markets and UN officials in restaurants often bought their own food which had earlier been stolen.

CEMENT WALL

A shipment of cement sent out by Russia was piled outside in the weather because there was no storage space. It was rained on—and a cement wall was created. Unfortunately there was no need for a cement wall at that point.

These are all examples of the troubles which beset a young country which is attempting to hurdle several generations—or centuries to land in the middle of the nuclear age. India is one brilliant exception because of the enlightened practice of the former British regime in training Indian administrators.

The new international civil service will receive requests from governments and then recruit the best qualified men they can find to meet these needs. These men will then become working members of the civil service of these governments.

The process is the reverse of what happens when a man is seconded from a national government for a period of service with the UN. He then ceases to be a national civil servant and becomes a member of the international service. This new system reflects one way in which experience has modified the practices and thinking in the United Nations secretariat and in some respects it reflects one step backward in the hope of achieving several steps forward. Just as it had not been realized how complex would be the problems of international development, so also it had not been fully appreciated how strong would be the forces of nationalism and how necessary would be national governments. Newly-free peoples of the world had to develop nationalism before they could move on to internationalism.

Dr. Keenleyside described the plan as "an imaginative attempt to meet a . . . serious need."

"Improved administration is probably the most important need of the less-developed countries," he said. "Economic and social progress is impossible without progress in administration."

INTEREST TO CANADIANS

The proposed new service is of interest to Canadians for two reasons.

One is because the secretary-general first broached the plan in a speech at McGill University two years ago.

Secondly, it's interesting because experience has shown that Canadians are among the most effective of all-nations in this type of work. As one official said:

"Canadians are respected but they don't have so much power in the world that they're disliked. They have no colonial taint. They have experience in the sort of work the underdeveloped countries want to do—production of raw materials and so on. And, perhaps because they come from a bilingual country, they tend to have a natural sense of tact."

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Two Million Words

LONDON—With the writing of the Postscript to his War Memoirs, Sir Winston Churchill has completed one of the most remarkable writing marathons in literary history.

The Postscript, in which he takes a look at the post-war years, will be published with a special one-volume concise edition of his Memoirs next spring—and it brings his wordage on the war and the English-speaking peoples up to the two-million mark.

Quite an output for ten years. How has he been able to churn out a weighty volume a year for a decade, especially when the bulk of it was done while he was running the country and exploring his numerous other activities?

The answer is that it was by no means a solo job. He had a team of helpers, headed by Alan Hodge, editor of History Today, and Denis Kelly, a barrister who is a close friend. The team was made up mainly of university archivists, history dons and researchers.

No matter where he was—at Chartwell, his country home, at Hyde Park Gate, his London home, or in the South of France, the men were on call at any hour of the day or night and he had two methods of using the team's talents.

Either he would get together with them and debate a chapter, then dictate his version to a secretary. Or he would get one of the team who was a specialist in any particular field to give his comments in written form and this he would edit into the Churchill style.

Sorry they boasted—The post office announced with pride that they had delivered six cream crackers. Each biscuit, stamped and addressed, had been put in a mailbox by a schoolboy in Wrexham.

They were carefully handled by the sorters and postmen and arrived at their destination intact. Result: a new craze for school boys—sending a letter to your pal on a cream cracker.

American author Irwin Shaw in town to see the progress here of the film of his book "The Young Lions" and, as with so many Americans now, to catch up with something he had missed in the States—"My Fair Lady."

His reply to the query as to whether he might settle in England: "I love London but I couldn't live here while your pups are shut at such odd hours. I hate to walk down a street and see a saloon closed."

Small Businesses To Get Assistance

VANCOUVER (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton has outlined to retailers federal plans to help small businessmen solve their problems.

He also indicated the government is considering changes in the present law against loss-leader selling and discrimination among businesses in the supply of goods.

Mr. Fulton, in an address to the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, said Tuesday night the government is proceeding "at once" to set up a small-business section in government.

REMOVE OBSTACLES

It also was taking steps to remove "artificial" obstacles to small businesses.

These steps were combined, branch investigations into loss-leader selling in cigarettes, electrical appliances and the hardware and jewellery trades, and into whether some types of grocery stores receive unfair price preferences from suppliers.

The Progressive Conservatives promised a small-business section during the 1957 and 1958 general election campaigns. It was included in the speech from the throne at the opening of the current session of Parliament.

Mr. Fulton said the law against loss-leader selling forbids selling goods at unreasonably low prices with the aim of eliminating or substantially lessening competition.

He said he hopes the investigations will show whether the present law is an effective weapon or whether other remedies should be sought.

The minister noted there now are difficulties in determining whether a certain price is unreasonably low and how it affects competition.

He urged his audience to present their case, bolstered with an abundance of facts. "One of the problems is the insufficiency of accurate information at the moment on which to base policies."

About half the country's domestic trade is in the small business field. "... a segment of the economy of this size and importance should not be dealt with on the basis of inadequate information or snap decisions."

12 CHILDREN DIED

Tragic Mistake by Nun

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—A coroner's jury Tuesday attached no blame in the deaths by fire May 28 of 12 Indian children following a young nun's testimony that she poured an inflammable liquid into a stove which touched off the fatal explosion and blaze.

Sister Mary of the Cross, heavily bandaged on her hands and body, gave her testimony from her hospital room. She was severely burned in an attempt to rescue the children. She rescued one child.

The fire levelled the two-storey frame building. Sister Mary, a member of the Roman Catholic order of Missionary Sisters of Christ the King, told the jury she was the only nurse on duty. The other sisters were in the convent, 23 yards away.

She was preparing bottles for feeding the children when she poured a liquid which she believed was coal oil into the stove, she said.

The 24-year-old nun whose face was badly scarred, said the stove exploded. Flames spread quickly through the building. The jury ruled the fire and deaths an accident. It recommended that all federal government buildings be inspected regularly to ensure fire regulations are observed and that all occupants have a reasonable chance of escape.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Varied Treatment Needed

Knowing the requirements of individual plants in the garden is a necessity not only for initial placement but for subsequent care and feeding.

There are some plants which thrive in the poorest sandy bank, but most need food added to the soil around them at some period during their lives.

Shrubs which flower during spring and early summer make their growth in the months following. After about three years in the same location these shrubs will benefit from a handful of balanced fertilizer watered in.

This should be applied before July. Late summer and fall flowering shrubs are best fed in the early spring. Azaleas, rhododendrons and many of the other broad-leaved evergreens require a special fertilizer.

Herbaceous perennials (as defined in last Friday's column) require no additional feedings for about three years if grown in well-composted garden soil. If left longer without dividing and replanting, a solution of balanced fertilizer should be made at the rate of a teaspoon of dry powder to a gallon of water. Give two quarts to each plant.

Prepared liquid fertilizers are also available. Apply these feedings after growth has started in spring and again as flower stems appear.

It is the feeding or not feeding of annuals which puzzles most gardeners. An average garden soil will contain sufficient food for annuals to flower successfully without addition of further food.

Compost and bonemeal left in the soil from previous plantings will suffice in most cases. Occasionally, as when the soil is known to be poor, a liquid feeding after midsummer will give annuals renewed vigor to complete the season.

Geraniums grown in a border rarely need supplemental feedings, but begonias under the same circumstances require them after they come into full bloom.

There's Real Importance Attached
To the Family Functions of Father

Some things you take for granted—the calm following the storm—the innocence of the child in his crib—the sizzling hot dog at the fair. This of course, is as it should be.

In these turbulent times, with shattering headlines forcing on our consciousness a world we never knew, it is good to latch on to the verities; for it is these truths, self evident though they may be, that give purpose and meaning to our lives, far beyond the flight of the swiftest rocket or the speediest jet plane.

The Church, the school and the home. No matter the shape of the brave new world to come, its very foundations must crumble without these.

These are the great natural forces that make of a child a man in the fullest sense of the word. And in all three, the Church, the school and the home, the father image is dominant.

By example of tolerance, by infinite patience, by instructive discourse he creates the vision of the citizen-to-be.

It is not enough to say that dad brings home the bacon—or that dad is the disciplinarian. Dad is also the spark that ignites the mind and he is the warm, human person who loves deeply and tenderly.

This then, is the meaning of Father's Day. It is to set aside one single day in the year, June 15, to give honor and respect and love to the head of the family.

It is, in a way, a sentimental occasion; yet all of the sentiment is tinged with happiness and joy.

Perhaps, too, it is a time for remembrance... a gift because it comes from the heart... a kiss because it is manifestly the token of affection... a family dinner because he is proud of you.

STAMP COLLECTORS

While You're at It Remember Gramps Too

June 15—a day to remember dad for the countless ways he remembers the rest of the family the other 364 days of the year.

But on Father's Day this year—and all the years to come—remember to remember grand-dad, too.

Every reason for honoring dad applies as well to the elder statesman of the family—who is "father," too. And, after all he does have seniority!

It may be that grandpa does not expect to be remembered. On the surface at least, he seems self-effacing, apparently too modest to want to be the centre of attention, and ready to let the "youngsters" have their day.

There is also a distinct danger that as a man moves into these "retiring" years of his life, he will tend to withdraw into himself, thinking that he should turn over the stage to the younger set. However, this is contrary to his best interests!

As an example, too many "senior citizens" tend to grow careless about their appearance, although looking good, dressing well is one of the best ways for them to keep up an enthusiasm for living!

With this in mind, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear recommends that gifts of handsome wearing apparel for grand-dad as well as dad are the answer to keeping up their appearance and their spirits.

In selecting wearables, make it a gift with a lift... something from the "fountain of youth" and even a bit on the adventurous side.

Gay Attire Will Make Him Feel Gay

Dashing sport shirts—short sleeves; gay colors and exciting patterns are invitations for grand-dad to get up... get out and be doing!

And grandpa goes along with this notion, for he has more time and also the inclination for enjoying our modern day leisure living.

Or a pair of shorts for grandpa?

"Don't be funny," somebody might say. "Grandpa is a little old on the beach... in a sailing dinghy or out where the mountain breezes play... he'll love the idea. Try him—and see."

Dress right, American men are told. Dress right and you are set for a career that moves forward just as you look forward.

But how does grand-dad fit into this wise and persuasive pattern? Where is he heading? For leisure, for relaxation and maybe some meditation and re-collecting?

The fact is, grandpa has really just begun to live—and he'll be the first to tell you. He wants to look the part, too.

Sons and daughters, and grandsons and granddaughters will do well before June 15 to check over all the items in grandpa's wardrobe and make sure it's up to mark and complete.

Father's Day Contest Offers Bikes Prizes

Here is an easy contest for children no older than 15 years of age. Just answer the question, "I love my Dad because..."

Sixty new bicycles will be given as prizes to the winners of the National Father's Day Contest, in which humorous and small children's answers will be weighed equally with those of teen-agers.

The age of the contestants will be considered, and older people are not allowed to enter the contest, nor to assist the entrants or compose the answers, which must be 35 words or less in length.

The contest will close on Saturday, June 14, as Father's Day is June 15, and entries must be placed in entry boxes that will be located in each men's wear store. Additional forms will be available at any of these stores.

Winners will be notified and a list of all the winners will be supplied to each store on July 15. The opinions of the judges will be final.

Give Dad Gift He Can Wear Just to Show Him You Care

Just for fun, let's flip the calendar pages back to June 10, 1910—the first official Father's Day.

The temperature is soaring—golly—it's going to be "a scorcher"... But a good day for a picnic!

Sure! There's a family group having a picnic down by the lake—let's take a look.

What's Dad wearing? He must be sweltering in that wool blazer. He's wearing a long-sleeved, heavy silk white shirt and bow tie, too. And a hat!—at least it's straw. My, he does look rather dashing in his white wool trousers and all—but on a picnic!

Yes, that was a typical outfit in 1910—but this is 1958—and my, how things have changed!

Though lightweight versions of Father's 1910 styles are fashion-right this year... you wouldn't find a modern Dad wearing them on a picnic.

Let's set the calendar forward a bit now. It's Father's Day, 1958—same place—could be the same family... but look at this Dad! He's wearing tapered slacks that are as bright, bold and modern as a brilliant Picasso painting. His shirt is a red that would ignite any fashion scene.

Cool? You bet! His slacks are a lightweight cotton or an "air-conditioned" wool, his shirt is "air conditioned" too, in a breeze-weight knit. Even his shoes, bright canvas, are cool and so comfortable.

This season does, indeed, mark a new era in men's sportswear. Never before has color... vivid, exciting, oftentimes wild colors... been seen in such profusion. Never before have so many styles—designed especially or cool, comfortable fun—been shown for men.

The big splash of color penetrates deep into the wide selection of beach and backyard wear. Pants go to all lengths... from the most brief of swim trunks to "bongo" pants that leave off at the calf... jacket and blazer picture as are knit to fit!

"HIS PIPE MERITS careful thought in its selection, according to the Pipe and Tobacco Council. Large or small bowls, long or short stems, straight or curved shanks offer a wide selection! The pipe smoker always welcomes a new pipe, especially one chosen with his own taste in mind!"

Casual outfitting for summer even follows the male into town. Stripes flash across the sports more attention... with details of slanted, leather-piped pockets, waists tailored to do without belts or belts attached to the slacks.

So, if Dad's summer sports-wear is not up-to-date, help make him the "man of the hour" this Father's Day with a gift of adventurous sports wear.

Chamois Rag Useful Gadget

Made from selected sheepskins, chamois is specially tanned in oil to produce a high gloss on painted and glass surfaces. And, used with ordinary soaps and water, a genuine chamois soaks up all layers of dust and grime from the car surface.

So the next time the family car needs a good going-over, father can arm himself with a roll of clean goat water—a clean genuine chamois, and in a short time the chariot will look as good as new.

Many Fatherly Duties

Pardon the comparisons—but Pop, are you as paternal as a water bug... as devoted as a chimp... as helpful as a bird?

Don't be too quick to answer... they are all fine Fathers—but perhaps not as fine as you!

Papa water bug, for instance, carries the eggs Mama lays on his wings until they hatch. Fish fathers also carry the eggs, though in the mouth or tail.

How's about it, Dad—can you boast of being better than the birds 'n' the bees?

FAIR HAIR: Blue grey is probably the best shade. The shirt color should carry some of the blue or grey with a subdued-in-mood tie.

BLACK HAIR: Oxford grey is his best suit color... cream color shirts, the best shirt hue.

GREY HAIR: No matter what his business, Dad should make it his business to wear dark blue suits, ties and bright, white or white ground shirts.

BROWN HAIR: Dad's a natural for middle-grey suit color... blue shirts and deep-toned ties.

RED HAIR: He's the fellow who can wear grey, brown or green... or all these co-ordinated or with green pre-dominant.

BUD BELL

It's Easy Catering To Pater

So you want to give Dad a new suit, but you don't know the correct size? Solve your problem with a gift certificate from his favorite men's store.

However, if you know the size, but you don't know exactly what kind of a suit to buy—here are a few fashion notes to guide you.

Returning this spring stronger than ever is navy—the one time classic best-seller which was ousted from first place by grey for a number of years.

GLEN PLAIDS
Pattern interest renews its importance this season, too. Overplaids, glen plaids and broken herringbone in a wide range of suit shades are favored. Texture-wise, watch for a raised surface pattern that emerges for the first time in men's spring and summer tropical all-wool suiting.

There's a "silhouette" choice for men too, this season. Outstanding is the "Canadian" look emphasizing some shoulder padding and indentation in the cut of the suit jacket.

Although the three-button suit jacket is most popular, there are two- and four-button models to satisfy the suit preferences of all men. The "ivy" type remains for the youngest businessmen.

This summer the coolest, lightest 8½ and 9-ounce wool suit weights should keep men comfortable when temperatures soar.

Successful businessmen prefer the wonderful tropical all-wool worsted business suits because of the ability of the wool fibre to hold its shape and retain that unmussed look throughout an active day.

TOPCOAT IDEAL
Looking ahead to fall, perhaps you'll want to give Dad a topcoat. Style leader is the single-breasted or fly-front model in lightweight wool. It can be worn for business or dress.

A more formal boulevard air for town is the set-in sleeve as compared to the more easy-going raglan-type sleeve for the suburbs.

Topcoat wardrobes interpret soft herringbones, smoother chevrons and coverts in softer, muted tones. Coats are shorter in length.

Using your own good taste together with these notes on trends, your gift of a suit or topcoat for Dad should be most fitting.

Gift Tie Row Pleases Dad

This year, the fashion wheel is turning from informality in men's afternoon wear to more formal dark wear. And men's neckwear is following the trend. No longer will the all-purpose silk twill do the trick. Special ties are worn on special occasions. Elegant afternoon ties are taking centre front in elaborate, though conservative, patterns of stripes and scattered confetti squares.

While their colors glow, the main fashion interest is in their texture—in the expert weaving of tone-on-tone, or near-matching shades whose gleaming surfaces are due to the lustre of pure silk.

For even more gala affairs, just short of dinner jacket aptness, a discreet shimmer of metallic is acceptable.

So though this may be the age of casual-living, an elegant air is its necessary and welcome counterpart.

Men can't come to gala gatherings looking as though they had just left the breakfast table—and what's more, the ladies won't let them; especially when they choose Dad's Day gift ties!

Auto Accessory Gift Will Help

If dad's keen on cars—likes 'em sharp, smart, spic 'n' span... an auto gift is what you ought to give him!

Whether he's a sportster, truckster, sedaner, coupeneer or wagoner—there's a wide variety of transportation "trifles" that are most giftable.

Very dandy is the handy dash dispenser... for holding within easy reach, cigarets, lights, sunglasses, glasses, tissues, maps, pencils and memo pads.

New seat covers are most suitable. Needed new tires show you're concerned for his safety. Outside rear view mirrors back up the strength of your concern.

Cleaning equipment makes the chore easier. And an even better idea is to use them first yourself—dad gets a clean car along with all the convenient tools.

DANCING FOR DAD
The rock'n'roll may be a bit too much for Dad... but if you think he's willing to learn the more subdued dances—give him a gift of a series of dancing lessons.

Elegant Formal Attire Will Aid Dad's Spirit

If dad's social calendar indicates a need for formal attire—why not make that your gift to him on Father's Day?

Today, tuxedos are comfortable like business suits... leaving the wearer free and relaxed to have a good time.

In the summer scene belongs the white tropical wool worsted dinner jacket with either navy or black trousers.

Or, you might select the new washable white dinner jacket made of 50% Dacron and 50% Orlon acrylic fiber blend. It can be worn after the first several machine washings with no ironing needed. Later, slight hand touches will perk it up. The jacket is fully lined and interlined.

In both the summer dinner jacket and navy or black tuxedos, narrow shawl and angled shawl collars are favored. Slim-line trousers with the plain unpleated front complete the picture of elegance.

And don't forget to include a bright accessory or two with your formal... cummerbund, formal shirt or jewelry... gifts dad will treasure!

Yup, Father is Unsung Hero

Poor ole Pop! Musically speaking, he's missing—or at least almost. Everyone is honored with songs—even "the hound dog." And Mother-music is multitudinous—so why not "Dear Old Dad"?

Only two tunes, actually referring to parental Pop, pop into mind—"Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now" and "Oh, My Papa."

Daddy deserves mention in a couple of other titles—but "Daddy" is not quite the one we had in mind: "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," and "Daddy-O," a teen tune.

So, take a cue and give Dad his due—strike a note or two to say Pop, "we love you."

New Grant System Being Considered Delegation Told

Abolition of the present system of per capita grants to municipalities, to make way for a new scheme, is under consideration by the provincial government.

The proposal was made by Premier W. A. C. Bennett Tuesday while meeting a delegation of Vancouver aldermen. They claimed their city does not gain as many benefits under the present system as some smaller centres.

The government has reportedly asked Vancouver council for assistance in drafting a new grants system which would be on a straight population percentage basis.

Under the current system the government provides grants of $16 per capita for the first 3,500 of population, $12 per capita between 3,501 and 8,000, $8 between 8,001 and 50,000, and $6.50 per capita from 50,001 upward.

The larger the city, the smaller the actual grant per person.

A straight per capita grant of so many dollars per person regardless of the size of the centre would benefit Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster especially.

The Vancouver delegation was primarily interested in obtaining equal treatment with other centres regarding provincial sharing of maintenance costs of highways within city boundaries.

Vancouver gets less assistance in this regard than other cities, the delegation said. The delegation said the premier offered to give Vancouver "10 per cent more than any other big city in Canada gets from a provincial government."

SIR GRANTLEY ADAMS

West Indies Government In Jeopardy

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (Reuters)—The seven-week-old government of Prime Minister Sir Grantley Adams was in danger of defeat today because of a dispute over the site of a capital city.

The West Indies federation parliament met to debate the controversial issue involving the site.

Chaguaramas, the site the government wants, is leased to the United States as a naval base. A three-country commission is to recommend the release for use as the site of the new federation's capital.

OPPOSED REPORT

Adams has opposed the commission's report and has called for a further conference on the matter, but opposition parties have supported the ruling.

Adams' Federal Labor party has 23 seats, Democratic Labor 21, and the Barbados National party one.

Political observers predicted that either the Democrats will be in power by next weekend or a new general election will be called.

Others admitted the government's position is precarious, but said that Adams is a shrewd parliamentarian accustomed to governing with a small majority when he was premier of the Barbados. They suggested he may be able to outmanoeuvre his opponents.

East Germans Will Release Fliers

BERLIN (AP)—East German today promised quick release of nine U.S. Army men and their helicopter if the United States acts in a "normal and reasonable manner."

The statement, an editorial in the East German Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland, did not specify what the Communists would consider "normal and reasonable."

The conciliatory editorial, which carries the weight of an official pronouncement, appeared after State Secretary Dulles told a press conference the United States would negotiate if necessary with East Germany for release of the eight army officers and one sergeant whose helicopter strayed into East Germany last Saturday.

Neues Deutschland reported Dulles' statement in an 80-word dispatch, including his contention that such negotiations would not imply diplomatic recognition of the satellite regime.

The newspaper conceded that the helicopter might have got ten over East Germany accidentally and said the men in the plane had behaved correctly after landing.

In another conciliatory move, the East German defence ministry Tuesday night repudiated a suggestion by its army newspaper Volksarmee that the Americans might be tried as spies.

Windsor, Ont., was first known as "South Side" to describe the location of early French settlers about 1750.

ARMY 'MOM' CANADA BOUND

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (Reuters)—Mrs. Ella Bailey, whose store in Princes Street in Edinburgh was a wartime haven for Canadian soldiers on leave in Scotland, sailed today from here to begin a new life in Canada with her husband.

Every afternoon she kept open house with tea and toast for the Canadians.

The Baileys have sold their store and this summer will show their collection of Scottish tartans in Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

GEN. CLARK ... moves up.

Gen. 'Fin' Clark New Army Chief

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj. Gen. Samuel Findlay Clark, known through the ranks as "Fin" Clark, becomes chief of the army general staff Aug. 31.

His appointment to succeed Lt. Gen. Howard D. Graham and his promotion Aug. 31 to lieutenant-general, were announced Tuesday.

Gen. Graham, 59, is retiring after 42 years' active service. Gen. Clark's appointment makes a series of quick promotions beginning with the Second World War.

He was born on St. Patrick's Day, 1909, in Winnipeg and received his early education there. At 24 he began his military career as a lieutenant with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

He became a lieutenant-colonel in February, 1941, and had risen to brigadier in November, 1943.

YOUNGEST MAJ.-GENERAL

On his return to Canada in 1945, Gen. Clark was appointed deputy chief of the general staff. When next promoted in 1949 he was, at 40, the youngest major-general in the army. He assumed his present appointment at Central Command at Oakville in 1955.

Gen. Graham is retiring after having been chief of staff since Sept. 1, 1955. He was a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force of the First World War in 1916 at the age of 17 with the 115th Battalion and served in France and Germany as a non-commissioned officer.

In 1944 he was named deputy chief of the general staff in charge of training. From 1948 until becoming army chief, he was successively vice-chief of the general staff and officer commanding Central Command.

Oak Bay playgrounds will feature supervised play and summer recreation classes between July 2 and 30.

The classes will include games, painting, ceramics, handicrafts and special events on Fridays. These events will include a skindiving exhibition and a nature hike.

Registration for Lafayette and Windsor Parks will be between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. Thursday at Monterey School, and for Carnarvon, Willows and Firemen Parks between 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. Friday at Willows School.

Proceeds from a dancing recital, pupils of Mrs. Katherine Costain, June 30, will go to the Oak Bay playgrounds, which attract 200 children last year.

'Do-It-Now' Winter Jobs Conference

OTTAWA (CP)—A national winter employment conference of representatives of industry, labor and government has been called for July 14 and 15 by Labor Minister Starr. It was announced Tuesday.

About 90 delegates representing 25 national organizations and provincial governments are expected to attend the Ottawa meeting, purpose of which is to increase the effectiveness of the do-it-now campaigns aimed at opening up more winter jobs.

Three main items on the conference agenda will be: 1. Extent and causes of winter unemployment; 2. action that has been taken to increase unemployment opportunities in this period; and, 3. practical proposals for further action.

Car Crash Victim In Coma 10 Days

COURTENAY (CP)—A Union Bay youth who has been in a coma for 10 days following a car accident south of Courtenay was moved to Vancouver by ambulance Tuesday night.

William Tratnik, 18, regained partial consciousness Tuesday but was described by Comox hospital authorities as still in critical condition. Courtenay ambulance was to take him to Vancouver General Hospital on the Black Ball Ferry from Nanaimo for specialist treatment of severe head injuries.

Tratnik was a passenger in a car that crashed into a telephone pole at 1:30 a.m. June 1, at an S-turn in the Island Highway two miles from Courtenay. The right side where he was sitting was peeled completely away by the pole and the roof punched down on to the seat cushions.

Driver of the car, Charles A. Powers, 32, of Courtenay, and another Union Bay youth suffered only minor injuries. Powers later was fined $125 on an impaired driving charge and forbidden to drive for six months.

Tratnik is an American citizen, but has been staying with relatives in Union Bay and attending school here. His parents were summoned from Shelton, Wash., because of his serious condition.

Old-Timers' Refuge 'Anchorage' Vacated

ALBERNI (CP)—"The Anchorage," for many years reserved by the city as a rent-free home for a veteran, has apparently outlived its usefulness.

At Alberni city council meeting Monday night a delegation from Somass Branch, Canadian Legion, told council that the Legion is willing to release the city from an agreement by which the little unpainted house on the bank of the Somass River has been at the disposal of the branch.

The fact that modern, duplex-type homes being built by A. V. Memorial Homes Society will soon be ready for occupancy has affected the need for "The Anchorage," reported Legionnaires Joe Cates and R. A. West.

Built early in the century, the cottage was occupied for many years by the late Dr. John Bybus.

In the dozen or so years since the elderly doctor left The Anchorage to go into hospital, several old soldiers have, one after the other, kept house beneath the old roof.

Disposition of the property was referred to council's health and welfare committee.

V.I. Chambers Meeting Asked In Early April

NANAIMO (CP)—Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce will have three resolutions to present to the annual meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island here June 18.

One resolution proposes that the ACCVI hold its annual meeting 45 days prior to that of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce which normally meets in May each year.

Another calls on the provincial department of highways to place signs along the highway pointing out that it is unlawful to dump refuse, and urging provision of receptacles for waste at various points.

The third resolution proposes that all Island chambers combine to establish a publicity booth at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver.

It is felt that a joint effort of this type would make it possible to give the Island greatly increased publicity.

$59,900 Contract To Vancouver Firm

ALBERNI — A $59,900 contract for construction of a water system has been awarded by Cherry Creek Improvement District to Greenwood Excavating Ltd. of Vancouver.

It will involve building of dams and laying of mains to serve the Cherry Creek area west of here. Bids on the project went as high as $129,000. Engineer in charge is W. Allan Ker, Victoria.

POWER BOARD LAKES CLOSED TO TOURISTS

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP)—Tourists and B.C. fishermen are unlikely to enjoy the attractions of Upper Campbell Lake and Buttle Lake at all this year.

L. H. Whittaker, B.C. Power Commission public relations director, told the Campbell River Fish and Game Association he could see no hope that the ban imposed before the May 19 holiday will be lifted.

At that time roads into the two lakes were closed due to serious forest fire hazards. Now debris from logging operations is piled up ready for burning and the situation is still "full of dynamite," he said.

He promised to check into charges that BCPC employees and their friends were being issued passes to the Upper Campbell Lake area. Association members claimed a private reserve was developing in the district.

Nomination Asked For Good Citizen

Greater Victoria's "Good Citizen" award for a lifetime devoted to public service will be presented on June 29, during the "I Am a Canadian" citizenship ceremony on the Legislative Buildings steps.

Nominations close June 19 for the award which is sponsored by Post No. 1 of the Native Sons of British Columbia. Nominations should be sent to: Good Citizens Award, 609 Trutch Street.

Accident Victim Dies of Injuries

PORT ALBERNI—Gialino Pellicci, run over by a heavy scraper at Saddle Dam No. 1, a part of the B.C. Power Commission Ash River project, died in West Coast General Hospital Tuesday.

Pellicci was injured Monday, and was taken to hospital by the Ash River project ambulance. RCMP provided an escort for 12 miles of the 20-mile trip. The accident victim suffered internal injuries and fractures of the pelvis and ankle.

An inquest opened here Tuesday night under the direction of Dr. Chesley Pitts, coroner.

The widow, in Winnipeg, was reported on her way here by air.

3 Sets of Twins Boost Hospital's Births in May

DUNCAN—King's Daughters' Hospital reported 62 births for May, highest total for one month since March, 1955, when there were 57 new-born registered.

The May record was boosted by the birth of three sets of twins in the first week of the month.

Patient days declined during May to 12,063, almost 800 below the April total.

Patients admitted totalled 1,694 for the first five months of this year, or just 30 more than for the same period in 1957.

The hospital reported a $13,791 deficit at the end of the first five months, compared with the $7,110 deficit accrued in the same period last year.

Fear can be mastered by Christian Science

Fear in some form is the foe we all have to conquer—fear of sickness, lack of failure, old age or loneliness. There are many doors, through which fear tries to enter.

Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy has shown countless thousands how to overcome fear. It does so, not in terms of human psychology, but of spiritual understanding, as the Bible teaches.

For Science and Health shows what God really is, and how anyone can find and feel his God, given freedom in every need.

Science and Health may be read or borrowed at any Christian Science Reading Room. Send $3 for a copy postpaid.

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1958 - PAGE 19

MONTE ROBERTS

So this man ups to me, and he says, you're a newspaperman, he says, you know all the answers.

So I ups to this man, and I says, to get answers, you have to have questions.

So he comes back at me and he says, so I have a question, the question is, what is Canada's national anthem?

So I says to him, why, any fool knows what is Canada's national anthem.

So he says to me, then tell me the answer.

And I says to him, I'm not just ANY fool, I'm a special kind of fool, so I don't know what is Canada's national anthem.

So this man goes away, muttering to himself, and I start going up to other people and asking them, what is Canada's national anthem.

So other people start answering me—after first looking at me as if I were the idiot child I am.

And some of the people say, why, Canada's national anthem is God Save the Queen, or God Save the King, as the case may be.

But other people say no, it says right here in this book, it says God Save the Queen is the national anthem of Great Britain and the colonies.

And Canada isn't a colony, these other people say, so how can God Save the Queen be the national anthem?

And still OTHER people say, why, O Canada is the national anthem, of course it is.

But other people say, why, the Maple Leaf Forever is Canada's national anthem, and our emblem, dear too.

Then I ups to some very learned people, and I ask them the same question, and they say, why there isn't actually any national anthem for Canada.

There is no law saying we have a national anthem, these learned people say.

It is only due to custom, or usage, not law, that we refer to the national anthem, these learned people tell me.

So I ask these learned people, which is our national anthem, through custom or usage, not law?

And they say, why, it all depends. God Save the Queen, maybe, or O Canada, or the Maple Leaf Forever.

So I am thinking of moving to Bulgaria (if there is any Bulgaria at the moment, a point on which I am not clear) where the national anthem is Bubbling Maritzza, and no arguing about it.

And I wish that man had never upped to me and asked me that question.

RESIGNATION of Arnold Webb, managing secretary of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, was announced "with great regret" by president Hugh Stephen today. Mr. Webb ends a three-year association with the chamber at the end of July to take up an undisclosed appointment. Mr. Stephen said "His enthusiasm, hard work and ability have brought the chamber to the highest peak in its history." Search for successor is under way.

Duncan Officer Appointed CO, HMCS Jonquiere

Lt.-Cmdr. E. V. P. Sunderland, 34, of Duncan has been appointed commanding officer of the RCN Pacific Command frigate Jonquiere, naval headquarters announced today.

He will take command Monday when Jonquiere is recommissioned after an extensive refit.

Lt.-Cmdr. Sunderland has been serving at Ottawa on the staff of the director of undersea warfare.

His ship will join the Fourth Canadian Escort Squadron based at Esquimalt.

RCMP Sergeant Wins $100 For Bike Race Estimate

Sgt. W. D. "Bill" Johnson, RCMP, 2469 Foul Bay Road, today was named winner of the Times centennial bike race estimating contest.

He wins 100 centennial silver dollars for making the closest estimate to the actual winning time in the race last Saturday.

Sgt. Johnson, who is in Vancouver this week, was only two seconds out on his estimate.

Bob Tetzlaff's winning time was 4 hours, 29 minutes, 42 seconds.

The sergeant's estimate was 4 hours, 29 minutes, 40 seconds.

Most of the 3,235 entries in the contest were in the four-hour-plus range. There were 33 entries in the 29-minute range, and 55 entries in the 30-second bracket.

Second closest guess came from Gordon More, 3803 Meridian, who estimated 4 hours, 29 minutes and 39.35 seconds, but there was only one prize.

Lake Plane Ban Asked by Police

Demand Comes as Sequel To Tragedy; Probe Slated

Barring of all float planes from Elk Lake was demanded today by Saanich Police Chief Bert Pearson. He made the appeal as Saanich police continued investigation of the Monday mishap that took the life of John Frederick Morrison, 15, of 620 Huxley.

Chief Pearson said aircraft using the lake were endangering the lives of swimmers. Numerous complaints have been made in the past month regarding planes on the lake, some of which have taxied on to public beaches.

"Only last week, I received a report of a plane beaching at Happyland," he said. "There have been others who have come and gone."

Many youngsters swim the length of the lake and could be hit by a float plane, he said.

"You can't tell me a plane travelling at 125 miles an hour can see a boy swimming in the water," he said.

However, Dr. T. G. How, district director of air services for the department of transport in Vancouver, said Elk Lake is not a restricted area for private float planes.

Applications for a licence to operate commercial planes from Elk Lake have been rejected in the past but there are very few lakes barred to private planes and Elk Lake is not one of them," he said.

Dr. How added that his department is "very interested" in the Elk Lake tragedy and will conduct an inquiry.

REPORT AWAITED

"But we haven't decided yet whether it will be a formal or informal inquiry. We're waiting for the police report. If the cause of the accident is obvious, the inquiry will be informal and may involve only review and adoption of the police report," he said.

An inquest into Morrison's death will be held Friday.

Any further action by police will not come until after the inquest, the chief said.

Chief witness at the inquest is expected to be Robert Turnbull, 16, of 3943 Rowland, who survived the accident.

The moored aircraft's engine was started when the two boys were playing with controls in the cockpit. Morrison was killed by the whirling propeller.

The aircraft is owned by Victor Dawson, president of the Victoria Float Plane Owners' Association.

The Victoria-Esquamit Union Board of Health Tuesday made the decision on the recommendation of E. S. Gropp, chief sanitary inspector.

"This should not be a job just for Victoria and Esquamit. It should be handled by the department of agriculture as a regional matter," he told the board.

The board adopted a proposal by Ald. Hugh Ramsay that the board try to enlist the support of surrounding municipalities for its demand.

Esquamit Coun. G. K. Samson said he would broach the matter at an intermunicipal committee today.

Mr. Gropp pointed out that if Victoria and Esquamit passed by-laws prohibiting sale of uninspected meat within their jurisdictions, people could still purchase uninspected meat direct from farmers outside the two municipalities.

An earlier request for meat inspection by the board brought a reply from Mr. Steacy that the present situation is not directly contrary to provincial statutes.

The board Tuesday dropped a proposal of establishing a $100 annual uniform allowance for each of the nurses because the sum was not included in this year's budget.

But Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, medical health officer, was appointed to investigate the matter and bring in recommendations for a uniform style.

Amalgamation Hopes Raised By Grant Plan

Bigger Centres Would Gain Much

Amalgamation prospects brightened today in the wake of a disclosure that the provincial government may revamp its system of grants to municipalities.

(See Page 9 for earlier story)

Speculation is that the government will replace the present sliding scale with a straight percentage formula for distributing per capita grants.

The sliding scale "is loaded in favor of smaller municipalities," Mayor Percy Scourrah said.

At present, the scale ranges from a $16 per capita grant for the first 3,500 people in a community to $6.50 for those in excess of 42,000.

SIZE NOT COUNTED

One suggestion is that this might be replaced by a straight $8.90 per capita grant to all communities regardless of size.

If carried out, it would raise Victoria's provincial assistance by $64,586 over this year's total of $475,796. Saanich also would benefit but Esquimalt and Oak Bay would lose money.

That's where amalgamation comes in.

The suggested change would eliminate the per capita grant loss suffered by an enlarged community under the present system.

However, Premier Bennett today said that the change may be along entirely different lines with complete abolition of the per capita system and substitution of aid for specific fields, such as road and arterial highway construction, not now covered by present formulas for a variety of municipal costs ranging from education to welfare.

But, regardless of what method is used, it appears clear that the government will try to meet objections from larger municipalities that they are being treated unfairly. That will hearten amalgamation proponents.

Saanich Candidate Ineligible

Robert J. Patch, who announced on Monday that he would be a candidate for the seat on Saanich council left vacant by the resignation of George Chatterton, said today he is ineligible.

He found that although he bought property at 1716 Cedar Avenue in October, 1956, there was not sufficient time for his name to be on the December, 1956, voters' list in Saanich.

It is required that the names of candidates be on the two previous lists.

"It is disappointing to have to withdraw," he said, but by December I will be eligible, and I'm looking forward to running for a council seat at that time."

Mr. Patch was an unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate in the 1953 provincial election, is a partner in an automotive firm.

FRIDAY CEREMONY

Flowers To Launch Ferry Run

Handing over of a bouquet of flowers from Butchart's Gardens will signal the start of Washington State Ferries' new summer run between Victoria and Port Angeles at 9 a.m. Friday.

May Queen Mary Gibson will present the bouquet to Mayor of Port Angeles, Mrs. Nathan Richardson, while a guard of honor composed of the 24th Medium Anti-Aircraft Regiment will play appropriate music.

Inauguration of the service will be attended by Public Works Minister W. N. Chant and Hugh Stephen, president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

The ship's return at 12:30 p.m. will be greeted by a cascade of water from fireboats and barges.

The streamlined ferry, Kala-kala, will make four trips daily in each direction on the regular summer schedule. Service on the international route between Sidney and Anacortes will be stepped up, also starting Friday, to three round trips a day on weekdays and two round trips on Sunday.

Petitioners Battle Over Zoo Closing

A "battle of petitions" has started in Wellington, near Nanaimo, over closure or retention of the Hertel Zoo, where a little girl was killed recently by a lioness.

A meeting of the Wellington Ratepayers' Association was told that more residents favor retaining the private zoo than are urging its closure.

The association has named four delegates to interview Recreation and Conservation Minister Earle C. Westwood as a follow-up to a petition urging closure of the zoo. The petition was signed by 175 people.

Mrs. Vida Williams, a near neighbor of the Hertels, said 58 of 200 signatories of a counter resolution supporting retention live within a one-mile radius of the zoo.

Swim to Mainland Proposed if Boat Escort Provided

Douglas Rivette, Victoria long distance swimmer, has offered to swim from Nanaimo to Horseshoe Bay on the mainland if Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce will provide him an escort boat.

Rivette, a Victoria printer, said he does not seek a sponsor for the swim, but wishes a boat in which his wife and trainer can accompany him.

A deaf mute, Mr. Rivette has made several unsuccessful attempts to swim Juan de Fuca Strait, and first tried to swim Georgia Strait last year.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Victoria police today reported they have located 82-year-old Peter Kriz, who vanished early Sunday from the home of his son, R. Kriz, 634 Garbally.

The elderly man, who arrived here on May 28 for a visit, has returned to his home at Grassland, Alta.

Eighteen members of Victoria Chamber of Commerce will seek seats in election of directors June 17.

Nine directors to serve for a two-year period will be elected from D. R. Abbott, H. Barnes, W. G. Courtney, G. I. Edgelow, G. Gregory, J. V. Harbord, D. W. Howell, M. A. Kent, S. Lane, A. Leith, K. C. Murphy, F. A. A. Norton, Jr., R. J. Wride, W. H. Yardley, E. Peden, S. Swetnam, B. B. Tingley and J. C. Thow.

An outstanding color photographer from the University of New York, Mrs. Helen Manzer, will give an illustrated lecture at Victoria College, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, June 17.

A few tickets are still available.

Mrs. Manzer is passing through Victoria on her way to conduct some workshops in California, and tickets for her lecture on color photography are available only by phoning or writing to the registrar of Victoria College.

Meeting of the Nova Scotia Club scheduled to be held tonight at 721 Courtney Street has been cancelled.

A new venue will be announced by the executive.

Dr. John J. Glynn, of Montreal, was appointed assistant medical health officer by Victoria-Esquamit Union Board of Health Tuesday.

Dr. Glynn, who has a post-graduate degree in public health, will begin his new duties Aug. 18, starting at a salary of $619 a month.

Mount View High School band, directed by Howard Denike, will give an outdoor concert on the school's grounds, Saturday, at 8 p.m.

A silver collection will be taken up to help the students finance their trip to Calgary, where they will take part in band competitions, and play at the Stampede.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Would you please be good enough to advise me whether or not it is customary for a fox-glove plant to reach a height of 7'-6"?—E.E.

A. It is not common, though the plant has been known to reach six to seven feet in height. If the fox-glove is growing under a shaded tree, this is a favorable condition which may account for the height, as the plant is a "woodland" growth that responds best under such circumstances.

An operation on five-year-old Wendy Diane Smith, daughter of Victoria MLA Donald Smith and Mrs. Smith, to correct a heart condition, was reported today as a success.

It was performed Tuesday afternoon at Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle, according to word received by Mrs. Smith's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are staying in Seattle with their daughter.

The child has had the condition, since birth. It has restricted her play and other activities.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This Woman Is Happy At Home; Some Aren't

I enjoy the letters I receive from readers. I get all kinds of questions and viewpoints through the mail. The letter before me gives us food for thought:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I cannot understand why many housewives are bored. I worked for 10 years, and it was a hectic life, with never enough time for many things I wanted to do. I lived in a rush and was always tired, too tired to enjoy my friends or family. Then, because of poor health, I had to stay at home.

"I must admit that it took me about a year to adjust and at first I thought I could not get along without the extra money. Now I have learned to live on my husband's salary, and as to being bored, I am enjoying the time I now have to spend on my home and with my friends. I sew, bake, work in the garden, and have time for social life and my family and have made so many new friends.

"My family tells me that I am an entirely different woman and so much nicer to live with since I am not rushed and tired all the time.

"Also, I find that I can save money in many different ways because I have more time to shop, sew, repair and save clothes. So, a woman who goes to work and must be a housewife too, only has left about half of what she makes. Now I wonder, 'was it ever worth it?'"

This is a very controversial question. I think that it depends on the individual woman, her husband, and her general setup. I have known some instances in which a woman with no talent or liking for housekeeping, but who was well-qualified for a good position, remained in the home because of her husband's feelings. The results were not very happy because she was completely frustrated.

However, any time two jobs are ruining a woman's health or disposition she should do something about it. It also is absolutely true that a woman must charge off overhead for any job she does outside of her home. What the reader said in her letter is so true! She had to cut corners because she did not have the time and energy to do many money-saving things

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

New clothes hampers now on the market are easier on clothes — and on housewives. Made of unbreakable polythene in a basketweave pattern, they are exceedingly strong, yet light to carry. Because the plastic is smooth and won't rust, chip or dent, the hamper cannot snag or stain clothes. These hampers are designed with openings in the basketweave to provide ventilation and guard against mildew.

Lemon croutons are tasty with canned green beans. Mix a tablespoon melted butter with a teaspoon each grated lemon rind and juice, and toss with crisp croutons. Mix gently with drained, heated beans.

Europe Spreads History Before Her Bright Eyes

By JUDY NICHOLSON

A living history book! That's the way Mrs. A. D. Sherwin, the former Miss Louanne Traunweiser of this city describes Europe.

She was married to F/O Sherwin of the Royal Canadian Air Force a year ago in Victoria and almost immediately went to the Continent to live at the RCAF base in Zweibrücken, Germany, where he is stationed.

This slim, attractive young woman's eyes sparkle as she tells you of her experiences overseas.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

"My husband and I love Europe! Mostly because it's a wonderful opportunity for us to actually see all the historical landmarks, museums, art galleries and countries we've both heard and read so much about."

Travelling on the Continent is "so easy," Mrs. Sherwin explains.

"Every long weekend we have we get together with other air force couples and away we go on camping trips or to drive across the border into other countries."

Zweibrücken has a population of 25,000 people. Louanne and her husband live in the heart of the city in a brand new apartment.

She laughs as she says, "It's a nice little place with three rooms, very modern . . . so much so that the abstract designs done in plaster on the walls are chipping off already!"

As far as getting accustomed to the German way of living, Louanne could only say "It was most baffling at first!"

"We studied German books like mad before we went there expecting to find ourselves out on a language limb, but they speak English as well as we do."

"The Canadian air force base is 'huge,'" Louanne says.

"It's a small city in itself. The base is equipped with bowling alleys, swimming pools, tennis courts and all forms of entertainment and interest imaginable."

As there are so many young couples there, formal dances and cocktail parties are frequent.

"One of the most interesting facts about this life in Germany, says Louanne, "is the wonderful manner in which we are all treated by the German people."

In July, she will return to Europe and almost at once she and FO Sherwin will leave for Brussels — and the World Fair.

No wonder Mrs. Sherwin loves Europe!

Golden Wedding Celebration

More than 135 guests gathered in Holyrood House last Saturday evening for a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Phillips, Mrs. Gwen Phillips and a grandson, Mr. Bryan Phillips.

During the evening the couple were presented with a "tree of gold," its branches containing $30. Mr. Frank Mulliner, who had been a guest at the wedding, proposed the toast. The Daughters of the Nile choir sang two numbers, and Mrs. Edna Clarke sang a solo.

A wedding cake surrounded by gold tulle and flanked with yellow roses in crystal vases was cut. It was decorated by a family friend, Mrs. S. Nay-smith.

Refreshment table covered with a Venetian lace cloth, was centred with a low bowl of stocks and roses in golden tones. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. O. E. Hart, sister of Mrs. Phillips; Mrs. St. E. Meiss, Mrs. D. Griffiths and Mrs. E. Murton, the last two the nieces of Mrs. Phillips.

Assisting as serveurs were a granddaughter of the couple, Miss Nona Phillips; Miss Ronnie Milton and Miss Nancy Murton.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. E. Spall and Miss Charlene Cottle of Vancouver; Mrs. G. Lacey, Powell River; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Phillips and Nomi of West Vancouver and Mrs. Gwen Phillips and Bryan from Lulu Island.

To Assist — Members of the James Bay Guild who will assist at Christ Church Cathedral garden party on July 5 include Mrs. Carl Gonnason who will convene the home cooking assisted by Mrs. A. Bushby and Mrs. B. F. Stewart and Mrs. M. Raynor and Miss Richardson who will be in charge of the sewing stall. Mrs. J. Bellacott, Mrs. Enid Webster and Mrs. R. H. Nicholson will have the white elephant stall. Plans were made at the last meeting of the Guild and following the business session a gift was presented to Mrs. J. Siddaway on the occasion of her birthday and her departure for England.

Aristocracy Hold Wider Place In Modern World; Values Change

VANCOUVER (CP) — Divergent opinions regarding aristocracy's role in the world today were expressed in an interview here by Viscount and Viscountess Monckton, Lord Monckton is touring Canada as chairman of Britain's Midland Bank.

Lady Monckton: "Real aristocracy involves a sense of responsibility for others. I can be carried into whatever work an aristocrat does."

Lord Monckton: "There isn't an effective role for aristocracy as such in England. The sense of responsibility has spread to others—you've got to be more than just a lord to be any good nowadays."

Answering a reporter's question during the friendly exchange, Lady Monckton, born 10th Baroness Ruthven of Freeland, said:

"Chauffeurs, nannies, cooks and country estates are all becoming scarce among us. Debutantes become stenographers, models and nurses after the season is over."

"But the spirit is still there in whatever an aristocrat may do."

Then she called her husband, Lord Monckton, a "peer for services that included serving as Conservative minister of labor and minister of defence."

HUSBAND-DISAGREES

He disagreed: "Many old families still remain because they combine position with special ability. For others — well opportunities for aristocrats are decreasing constantly."

Is England losing something as the aristocracy fades?

Lady Monckton said: "It's sad to see a large family unable to keep up its estates and people, and to look after those people as they always have."

Lady Monckton was less sure: "I suppose there is some loss. But there is far more equality of opportunity. You don't have to depend on birth and position. And the old families with merit will remain."

He added: "I can say all this

In Memory — It was decided at meeting of Camosun Chapter, IOOE, to make a donation to the Victoria Free Cancer Dressing Clinic in memory of the late Mrs. Ada Miles. A donation was also made to the India Fund of the IOOE. Plans were made for a garden party for members at the home of Mrs. T. Walsh, 210 Homer Road, on July 4.

because I am not an aristocrat full time. She was controller of the Auxiliary Territorial Services in England and India during the Second World War. Now she helps administer government hospital funds for southeast London. Kent and job," said Lady Monckton. "It's Sussex, a five-day-week unpaid never was." But her own work job.

Both agreed that titles symbolic of special merit are a good thing. "Aristocracy is no full time job," said Lady Monckton. "It's Sussex, a five-day-week unpaid never was." But her own work job.

Patricia Campbell Bride In Ceremony at St. John's

In an attractive ceremony Saturday evening, Miss Patricia Mary Roberta Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Blanshard Street, became the bride of LAC Lawrence Raymond Walton, RCAF Station, Sea Island, Vancouver. He is the son of Mrs. J. G. Walton and the late Mr. Walton, Crease Avenue.

St. John's Anglican Church was setting for the wedding which was conducted by Canon T. W. Scott. Organist Frederick Chubb played wedding music.

A guard of honor made up of members of the Victoria Girls Pipe Band was formed outside the church following the wedding. A full-length gown of white faille taffeta with a full rippling skirt was worn by the bride for her marriage. The princess line gown featured a fitted bodice and scoop-neckline with short sleeves. Bands of heavy lace trimmed the waist and neckline. A rhinestone coronet held her fingertip veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and pearl earrings. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Miss Deanna Bosson was maid of honor, wearing a dress of aqua-toned chiffon. Her bandeau was in matching shade and she carried a crescent bouquet of yellow carnations. Bridesmaids Miss Violet Kallinowich and Miss Carol Haylett wore similar gowns in yellow chiffon. Both carried bouquets of aqua-colored carnations. Flower girls Gerri Watling and Maureen Campbell wore aqua-colored frocks and carried tiny bouquets of yellow carnations.

Best man was CPL W. Walton, Comox, brother-of-the-groom. Ushers were LAC N. Sim, LAC R. Trainor, LAC R. Schard and LAC T. Kaftan.

At a reception in Holyrood House, W. Renfrew proposed the toast to the bride. The bridal table was decorated with a white lace cloth centred with a three-tier cake, flanked by silver candelabra and vases of red roses.

Travelling to Oregon, the bride donned a powder blue dress and duster coat ensemble with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds and stephanotis. LAC Walton and Mrs. Walton plan to live in Vancouver.

Jellied Summer Cooler

As temperatures soar, thoughts turn to summer coolers. More times than not summer coolers mean long slim glasses of chilled beverages. Coolers can also be sparkling glasses of amber-colored lusciousness... delicately flavored jellied consommé.

Handy as your refrigerator is a menu featuring this tried and true summer delight. Have it plain, right from the can... or combine it with crisp, colorful vegetables or toppings. Be certain that one corner of your refrigerator holds some canned condensed consommé. It takes but 4 hours to jelly to eating consistency, right in the can. Likewise when you're using a recipe, four hours of chilling will do the trick.

As a base for a salad, or plain, cooling jellied consommé is just right for the calorie-conscious gal, the economy-minded hostess.

For your next luncheon serve June Vegetable Consommé with Sour Cream Topping, assorted sandwiches and angel food cake (made from a packaged mix). Here are the recipes:

JUNE VEGETABLE CONSUMMÉ
One can (10 ounces) condensed consommé, ¼ cup chopped cucumber, 2 radishes, sliced, sour cream, if desired.

Empty consommé into a bowl. Add vegetables. Chill about 4 hours. Stir mixture once during chilling period, when partially jellied, to distribute vegetables evenly. Serve with sour cream. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

SOUP CREAM TOPPING
One-half cup to sour cream, 1

As handy as your refrigerator, is a can of jellied consommé. This recipe combines condensed consommé, chopped cucumber and sliced radishes. The topping... sour cream and horseradish. For dessert... angel food cake from a packaged mix.

With sour cream. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

One-half cup to sour cream, 1

Women in Distress All Receive Help From Salvation Army Centres

TORONTO (CP) — The receiving home run by the Salvation Army on Sherbourne Street here provides emergency shelter for stranded girls, abandoned wives — any woman in distress. Since it opened last February more than 100 women have spent at least one night at the home.

It is presided over by Maj. Mary White of New Waterford, N.S., and Captain Florence Hill, who came from Montreal, and has temporary accommodations for 15 women. They go for various reasons. Some arrive in the middle of the night after being found by police wandering the streets in desperation.

Youngest visitor was a baby only a few weeks old, brought by its mother to stay while the Salvation Army sought her missing husband. Although the shelter is mainly for temporary visitors, it also has semi-permanent residents who will eventually be housed in an adjoining home. These, who may stay as long as a year, usually are youngsters released by the courts to the care of the Salvation Army.

EXPERT HELP
The routine is strict, but is aimed at fitting the visitors for work and life outside the shelter. At 7 a.m., breakfast in a brightly-decorated dining hall and have 20 minutes in prayers led by a Salvation Army officer before doing their housework.

Then girls who are seeking employment go out while others stay to help with the cooking or laundry work. Afternoons are free to go out if they wish, and they are permitted outside four evenings a week, but must be back by 10 p.m.

Major White is always available to counsel the visitors. She keeps in touch with the Salvation Army's own employment agency and with the city welfare and other agencies. She has been in the Salvation Army for 28 years, doing social work in Hamilton, London, Ottawa, and London, Ont.

Saint John, N.B., Halifax and Sydney, N.S.

Captain Hill became an officer in the Salvation Army 18 years ago, and has done field work in many Canadian communities — Winnipeg, Flin Flon, Man.; Indian Head, Yorkton, Watrous, Maple Creek and Regina in Saskatchewan; Calgary, Vermilion, Grande Prairie in Alberta and at Port Arthur in Ontario.

Church Choir Precedes Mary Cleland Up Aisle

St. Michael's and All Angels' Anglican Church preceded the wedding party up the aisle for the recent marriage of Mary Lynne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cleland of Royal Oak, and Arthur Girard LeBrun, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeBrun of Comox.

Rev. J. Rogers conducted the ceremony in a church decorated with a profusion of roses, carnations, white gladioli and ferns.

Traditional organ music was played by Mrs. Rogers. Given in marriage by her father, the attractive bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over layers of nylon net. The dainty gown had a front lace panel with bouffant tiers of the same material at the sides. A double nylon net crown, trimmed with tiny seed pearls, held her chapel veil. Red roses and white stephanotis were in the bridal bouquet.

A trio of attendants wore taffeta gowns, in ballerina length. Maid of honor was Miss Jeanline LeBrun, sister of the groom; bridesmaid, Miss Sharon Polson, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Kathleen Cleland. Senior attendants were in blue and carried nosegays of pink carnations and junior attendant was in pink carrying a nosegay of blue carnations.

Marcel LeBrun, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushering were J. Ulrich and W. Carney, both of Courtenay, B.C.

R. L. Henderson, New Westminster, proposed a toast to the bride at a reception held in the Women's Institute Hall, Royal Oak.

A pearl grey suit with pink accessories topped with a corsage of roses was worn by the new Mrs. LeBrun for her wedding trip to Eastern Canada. The couple plan to live in Churchill, Man.

QUALIFICATIONS — NOT SEX, YARDSTICK FOR PROMOTION

VANCOUVER (CP) — Equality of opportunity in promotion and training is still denied a large number of Canadian women, a Vancouver delegate told the National Council of Women's 65th annual convention here Tuesday.

Miss Eleanor Morley, chairman of the council's trades and professions committee, said in a report that employers should hire, train and promote employees on the basis of their personal qualifications, regardless of sex.

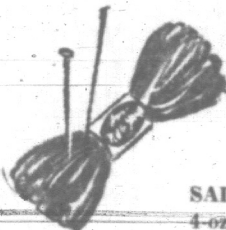

"Our society's needs for capable, highly-trained persons are so great that we do ourselves a disservice by neglecting any reservoir of undeveloped talent and ability," she said.

The week-long conference, attended by some 200 delegates from points across Canada, winds up today.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Victoria District Notes: A trip to Parkville by train gave a thrill for 12 Wolf Cubs of the Tillicum group last Saturday, when they attended the Cub Rally held at the Community Hall by the Mount Arrowsmith district.

The six from Tillicum "A," under the leadership of Mrs. P. Caton, and six from Tillicum "B," with Mrs. Mary Smith in charge, were welcomed by T. Tryon, district commissioner, when they arrived at Parkville. The boys were billeted with the Cubs of the Parkville pack and spent the afternoon swimming and exploring.

At 7 p.m. 100 Wolf Cubs and their parents met at the hall for their display.

The opening ceremony was taken by Miss A. Watts, Akela of the Quilicum Beach pack. (Miss Watts has had 45 years' experience in the Scout movement.)

Five Cub packs from the Mount Arrowsmith district took part in the program, which included knotting relays, leapfrog, message relay, skipping, hopping and a compass relay. A jungle dance was demonstrated by a group under Akela G. Bosson, while Rev. W. H. Bulloch, Akela of Quilicum Beach "A" Pack, demonstrated a pack game.

Camp-fire under the leadership of T. Tryon and Rev. W. H. Bulloch, followed by taps, brought a successful evening to a close.

It is hoped that the event will be an annual affair, with a shield to present to the winning pack each year.

The boys from the Victoria district who attended were full of praise of the hospitality that they received from the Arrowsmith district.

On Thursday last the final meeting of the Victoria District Akela Club was held at Millstream, Langford, with Akela Kay Kleghorne and Mary Smith in charge. During the evening, a collection of native plants was made and several Cub games were run off. The evening concluded with a camp-fire and refreshments.

The turnout was poor and it was intimated that unless more support is given the Akela Club will have to be dropped.

Colwood Group: Thirteen Scouts under Scoutmaster "Red" Lovas spent the weekend camping on Mount Matthews, Metehosin. The boys are all recruits and made an excellent showing during the trip.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions are selected to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Sharon Burris, aged 12, of Woodlake, Calif., for her question:

How Does Quicksand Form?

A stretch of golden beach always looks inviting. It beckons us to run on bare feet, to build castles and dig moats. However, it is wise to test a newly-discovered beach before trusting it too far. There may be times when it turns into a tricky quicksand.

The tricky old quicksand often plays a role in hair-raising tales of adventure. Maybe our Hero, running from a Badman, gets caught in such a booby trap. He steps onto what looks like solid ground, only to find himself in a hopeless bog. His feet sink down and he cannot lift them. A sucking from below pulls him down and down. Help, of course, arrives in the nick of time. A rope is thrown to him and he is dragged to safety.

This is the story-book version of quicksand. Actually, a real quicksand is very rare. It is a mixture of sand and water, too thick to swim in and too thin to support your weight. It occurs where a layer of sand rests on a layer of solid rock. When this pattern occurs below tide level it forms a trap for tidal waters.

You can see how this happens from playing with sand and water. Make a soupy mixture of sand and water in a pail. The water sinks through the sand but cannot drain away through the pail. In a quicksand, the water is trapped like the water in the pail. It is slow to drain back to the sea. The tide pulls at this trapped water and a person caught feels he is being pulled down. Actually, the pull is from the water trying to drain home to the sea. This type of quicksand will drain dry and be safe between high tides.

Constant Bog Always Risky

A few quicksands remain soggy and dangerous all the time. These are sandy pockets resting in buried barriers of solid rock. These sands are flooded with every high tide and there is no way for the trapped water to drain away.

A bog is first cousin to a quicksand. It usually forms in the bed of an old lake. The water is choked with vegetation. Certain mosses like to live in the stagnant waters of an old lake. Every generation a new layer of moss grows on top of the old. The stagnant water is a soupy mass of rotting plants with a brilliant green layer of new plant life on the surface.

It is very dangerous to step into a bog for the solid ground may be 30 feet below the surface. Naturally, none of Andy's friends ever go exploring old lakes without a proper guide. And no sensible person ever goes rushing onto a new beach without making sure it is not a quicksand.

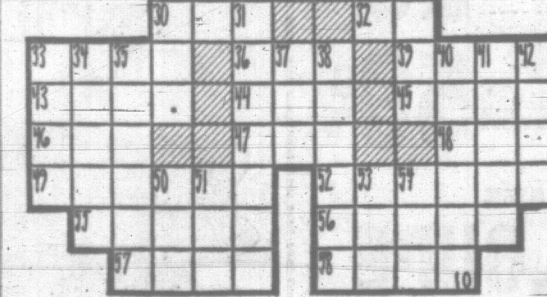

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Alan Rotterman, age 10, of Atlanta, Ga., for his question:

Is a telescope different from a microscope?

Both these words end in scope, which means to see or to view. The first part of telescope means far and the first part of microscope means small. This word detecting leads us to the conclusion that a telescope is for viewing faraway things and a microscope is for viewing small things.

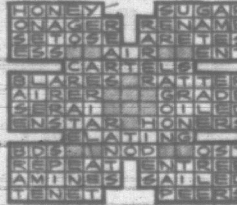

Magnifying lenses are used in both instruments. These glass shapes bend or refract the light rays to produce an image which is larger than life. The lenses of the telescope are arranged to make faraway things seem near. This is the instrument astronomers use to view the distant stars.

The lenses of the microscope are set to magnify small objects and living creatures too tiny for the eye to see. The microscope is an important instrument of the scientist's laboratory.

3RD CROSBY ALTAR-BOUND?

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Philip Crosby, following the footsteps of his twin brother, has been dating a chorus girl. But he denies any marriage plans.

"We're just good friends," Philip, 23, said Tuesday of brunette Sandra Drummond, 20. His twin, Dennis, married Pat Sheehan, 26, a Las Vegas showgirl, last month.

The twins' father, Bing Crosby, married actress Kathy Grant, 23, in the desert resort last fall.

PARENTS DIDN'T KNOW

Their Son Lay Dying

VANCOUVER (CP)—When Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tighe of Vancouver went to visit their son Earl in the Cariboo, they passed the scene of a traffic accident on the Fraser Canyon Highway, north of Lytton.

As police waved them by they were unaware that the dead man at the bottom of the steep embankment was their only son.

"We had three of Earl's children with us," Mr. Tighe said Tuesday. "We drove up to the ranch (where Earl Tighe had worked). Just then the police drove up and told us Earl had been killed when his car went off the road."

Earl, 29, was killed after only two months of the ranching life he always wanted. A Vancouver boy, he had moved his wife and three children to the Cariboo two months ago. Two weeks ago they had their fourth child.

Callas in Tears At Royal Cheers

LONDON (AP)—"Royalty holds that tiger" headlined The Daily Herald today after an eight-minute ovation and the applause of the Queen brought tears of joy to the frequently fiery eyes of prima donna Maria Callas.

The tempestuous Greek-American soprano triumphed Tuesday night in a performance of the mad scene from Bellini's I Puritani that highlighted a glittering gala celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden.

The singer's performance—and her behavior—got rave reviews. The Daily Telegraph termed her a singer "in whose art the tragic actress and the musician are equally powerful."

The program of opera and ballet also included Covent Garden's pride, Dame Margot Fonteyn, and the other dancers of the royal ballet in a special "birthday offering," and American mezzo-soprano Blanche Thebom and Canadian tenor Jon Vickers of Prince Albert, Sask., in the love duet from Berlioz' Trojans at Carthage, the house's most spectacular production of recent years.

The Daily Mail said Miss Thebom and Vickers sang splendidly.

The London Times described the gala as "equal in glory to those of Queen Victoria's golden days." One reporter counted 12 ambassadors, six high commissioners and more than 80 titled persons besides the Royal Family.

Innisfail, Alberta town 80 miles north of Calgary, is named after the municipality in Argyllshire, Scotland.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST
THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1958

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Contact those persons just-out-of-town with whom you want to cement better relations. Later, it will be possible to arrange a party or other function at bwn residence where you can entertain beautifully and find new friendships.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Here is the day you have awaited to ameliorate your practical and financial matters. Set a goal and adjust your budget to meet it comfortably. Start on a new venture. Then take the steps that will put you in a physical condition for doing that precise and minute work which you so love to do, while thinking about some fine plan whereby your abundance will increase by leaps and bounds. P.M. relax at favorite sports or at the theatre.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—The aspects are fine for doing that precise and minute work which you so love to do, while thinking about some fine plan whereby your abundance will increase by leaps and bounds. P.M. relax at favorite sports or at the theatre.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—It is entirely imperative you get busy on private matters that will insure a good revenue right now. Forget the small extravagances which so please you and concentrate on the important, P.M. excellent for the romantic, the recreational.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Your dreams of success are nearer fulfillment than you suppose. You have but to extend your hand and start collecting. And be certain you follow through on any commitments with others. Tonight, get out and win that tournament, contest.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—There is every opportunity to finally get the strong support of a bigwig who today realizes your great potentiality, ability. And later in the day others also come through with backing of some sort or another. Be happy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Be alert and get out of your shell. Impart to everyone with your fine mind and practical genius. Know the real now and follow it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Since you love to forget all anything that you do not comprehend, whether in business or social life, you can have a heyday today, for much is remiss. P.M. be sure to get together with associate and get things well organized.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Working earnestly with associates, pals, kin today will bring about far better relations and comprehension. See that they are as adroit and co-operative as you, and take the lead. You have the ability.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Are you cognizant of what you must do to impress higher executives so that they recognize your true worth and will give you a raise or the backing you deserve? P.M. is ideal for a good time with fellow workers or associates.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You have much clarity of mind today and can look right through any perplexing situation, personality, and then follow your good hunches. This should be one of your best days, both in financial as well as social affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—One of your own blood today will outline a splendid plan, that will be most helpful in all your problematic affairs. Forget your worries, listen most carefully and follow it. You find you come out on top.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY...
The child born Thursday will never be at a loss for a retort or reply to anything spoken to him or her. And since the nature is a curious one, there will be much ability for concentration and study. Therefore, because you give a good education in many fine subjects, for there is no limit to the ability here. Your progeny can and will combine acting, writing, inventing successfully.

MARGARET

Two hours later in the main lounge of the Empress Hotel, about 70 dignitaries from the judiciary and churches will be presented prior to an official luncheon tendered by the provincial government.

The royal visit will be a signal for many other activities which are expected to be enjoyed as much by the people of the province as by the guest of honor.

In Victoria, these include an honor guard, inspection and military royal salute, a parade of army, navy and air force units past a Causeway reviewing stand, and a garden party in the grounds of the incompleting Government House.

FLEET INSPECTION

There will be a special visit also to Veterans' Hospital. Highlight of the Victoria visit however, is expected to be the royal review of RCN and foreign ships. The princess will embark in HMCS Crescent for this event, but the anchored dressed ships will be visible to the public from various waterfront vantage points. At night they will be illuminated.

Elsewhere in the province, the princess will see B.C.'s history come to life. There will be a pageant and pageants at Courtenay and a rodeo and authentic chuck wagon lunch at Williams Lake, complete with cowboys, Indians and cattle.

The princess will cut Nanaimo's five-ton birthday cake, visit oil wells at Fort St. John, ride on a PGE royal train, travel both in RCAF land and amphibious planes, making water landings at various Okanagan points. She will open a new bridge at Kelowna, a museum at New Westminster and the rebuilt Fort Langley. During her final afternoon at Vancouver, she will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, at University of British Columbia.

Aside from man-made spectacles, the princess will find her route arranged to provide B.C.'s best "spectacular," the wonders of its finest scenery.

NEWS BRIEFS

Victoria Public Library will change its closing hours beginning next week.

The library will close at 6 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays, remaining open until 9 p.m. on other weekdays.

Victoria Duplicate Bridge Club held its weekly session at 902 Government Street, which was attended by 52 players.

North-South winners were: 1. Charles Cleworth and Bud Waddington; 2. Ethel Cleworth and Jack Goldie; 3. Larry McMillan and Harry Parry; 4. a tie between Bill Simpson-Baile and Doug Hawkes; and Elizabeth Warren and Lil Tattersall.

East-West winners were: 1. Molly Collins and Maude McKinnon; 2. Jim Duprau and Eric Goodwin; 3. George Metcalfe and Frank Artlett; 4. Laura Ingle and Isabel Kelly.

'Canadian Institute' Created at Carleton

EDMONTON (CP) — The Institute of Canadian Studies has been established at Carleton University in Ottawa, it was announced here today.

MACMILLAN

Continued from Page 1. exactly how we should do this; what instrument we should use," Macmillan said.

TASK FOR EXPERTS

"No doubt that is a matter for the experts. But it's the job of statesmen to organize and direct the experts' thinking."

"Perhaps in the course of this year we may see how we can agree how to do the things we want to do."

The prime minister, turning to a discussion of the Soviet Union, said: "Absence of free communication is indeed one of the greatest barriers between the Western and the Communist world."

He said it may be possible to reach partial agreements with Russia, but added: "There can be no real understanding and friendship until the Soviet Union has achieved sufficient self-confidence to abandon control and censorship of communications."

POINTS UP JAMMING

"It is an illuminating as well as a disagreeable fact that even now Russia should think it necessary to spend so much time, effort, ingenuity and finance on jamming broadcasts from the Western countries."

"As long as this kind of negative thinking prevails there can be no great optimism about the prospects for a wide or comprehensive settlement."

Minor Injuries Treated First

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The American Society of X-ray Technicians was told Tuesday that after an A-bomb attack, those with minor injuries would get No. 1 priority so they could quickly be put back into the community to help others. Most seriously injured would be last to be treated.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

LONDON — The founder of Cancer Anonymous announced today he has had his right lung removed in his second major cancer operation.

"You can tell my friends I have every intention of living," said Rev. Brian Hession from his hospital room.

The 48-year-old Church of England vicar was first operated on for stomach cancer four years ago in Los Angeles while on a lecture tour.

Although told originally he had only a few days to live, he recovered and founded Cancer Anonymous, an association of ex-cancer patients which tries to cheer and inspire other victims.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Detective John Gates investigated a dog bite complaint Monday.

He had a court order for the dog owner to show cause why the animal should not be destroyed.

The owner wasn't home; the dog was.

Gates was treated at a hospital for bites on the leg.

WALLA WALLA, Wash. — Challen Robertson, 22, driver of a car involved in an accident in which Debbie Waggoner, 3, was killed, was sentenced Tuesday to visit the child's grave daily for the next 30 days.

The alternative is 30 days in jail.

SPOKANE, Wash. — Archie Enzler, 45, held a paint spraying gun to his ear Tuesday to hear if it was working.

A hospital steward and a doctor took turns cleaning the paint out of Enzler's ear.

The pangolin, or scaly anteater, found in parts of Asia, may reach up to six feet in length including the tail.

LIBEL SUIT LOST

'Sugar for Silkin' In Public Interest

LONDON (Reuters) — Lord Silkin, acting Opposition leader in the House of Lords, Tuesday lost a libel action against The Sunday Express.

Silkin maintained that an item headed "Sugar for Silkin" in December, 1956, which referred to speeches he had made against German rearmament and also to the fact that he was then chairman of a company marketing German Heinkel mini-cars in Britain, implied he was insincere and hypocritical, prepared to sacrifice his principles for personal profit and unfit to take part in House of Lords debates.

The defendants — the Beaver-

South Africa's exports to Britain, excluding gold, climbed from $84,400,000 in 1952 to £110,600,000 in 1957.

'Canadian Institute' Created at Carleton

EDMONTON (CP) — The Institute of Canadian Studies has been established at Carleton University in Ottawa, it was announced here today.

The institute, making formal use of about 1,500,000 books in the various Ottawa libraries, hopes to attract graduate students planning to enter the diplomatic or public services, as well as potential teachers, librarians and administrators.

The announcement was made by R. L. MacDougall, associate professor of English at Carleton, in an address to the annual meeting of the Association of Canadian University Teachers of English.

Mr. MacDougall said the institute is designed to "foster scholarship in subjects or fields of study which bear more or less directly on the cultural history of Canada."

The program would include comparative studies of relations between Canada and Great Britain and France, Canada and the United States, and Canada and other member nations of the Commonwealth.

Sweden and Britain are the only countries in Europe which still have traffic keeping to the left.

$250 MILLION FOR ALASKA MISSILE 'EYE'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force said Tuesday it plans to begin construction in Alaska this summer of an early warning station for detection of intercontinental missiles.

Delegate E. L. (Bob) Bartlett said $30,000,000 has been released to begin construction, but total cost of the facility is estimated at approximately $250,000,000 including equipment.

No location was disclosed in the air force announcement, Bartlett said, but there has been frequent speculation that such a facility was contemplated along the northern stretch of the Alaska Railway.

He identified him as William Freeman, his teacher.

"I am sure he is someone who belongs in space," the youngster concluded.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Youth Charged With Setting Fire

(From CP Dispatches)

MISSION CITY — Police have charged a 17-year-old youth with setting fire to a school dormitory housing 145 students.

The arrest followed two fires at Mission City Indian School, May 1 and June 1. Both fires forced evacuation of the three-story dormitory.

The youth will appear June 18 on a charge of arson.

BOY STILL CRITICAL

TRAIL — John Stranne, 15, remained in critical condition in hospital Tuesday with injuries suffered Sunday when a home-made rocket exploded in the basement of his home here.

One leg was amputated in an emergency operation.

TRANQUILLE — Tranquille San-

itorium buildings will be used by the government for some purpose, Highways Minister Gagliardi says.

In a tape-recorded message to the Kamloops and district board of trade Mr. Gagliardi said the government is now deciding to what use the buildings can be put.

He said most of the employees now at Tranquille probably will be able to keep their jobs.

TRANSIENT CHARGED

VANCOUVER — William James Douglas Campbell, 35, a transient, was charged with arson and trespassing Tuesday.

Campbell was one of three suspects picked up after five fires broke out overnight in a five-block area of the Vancouver waterfront.

Five boxcars and two lumber piles were damaged in the fires. One fire threatened the multi-million-dollar Ballantyne Pier before it was brought under control.

BABY NEGLECTED

VANCOUVER (CP) — The parents of a "deplorably filthy" baby found by police in a room where five persons had passed out from drinking were charged Tuesday with neglecting the child.

Police said the baby, a 24-month-old girl, was found Monday night asleep under a sink with its head in a pool of urine.

They said it had not been changed or fed since early in the morning. The baby was turned over to the Catholic children's aid.

HOOF CONVENTION

PENTICTON — Members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows from all parts of B.C. were welcomed to Penticton Tuesday by Mayor Charles E. Oliver.

The four-day convention which opened Monday includes the 84th annual session of the Grand Lodge; the 67th session of the Grand Encampment; the 50th session of Rebekah Assembly, and the 49th session of Department Council Patriarchs Militant.

ARCTIC SURVEY

VANCOUVER — A plane will take off soon from a D.E.W. line base in the Northwest Territories on the start of an aerial survey mission to make a giant Arctic photograph.

It will take in 54,000 square miles of land north of the Arctic circle, a job that may take several years and cost about $700,000.

Aero Surveys Ltd., a Vancouver-based firm, is one of three aerial photography companies under contract to the federal government.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court Tuesday: Denis Stacey, 642 Wilson, $25 for speeding over 30 miles an hour.

Frieda I. Destrube, Brentwood, $25 for driving without a license.

Edward Muster, Naden, $35, careless driving.

Victoria, the first state in Australia to provide old age pensions, passed such legislation in 1901.

Second Toronto Subway

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Transit Commission chairman Allan Lamport said today the TTC will spend $8,000,000 "right away" to clear underground services along Toronto's second subway route.

Metropolitan Toronto executive Tuesday voted 4 to 3 in favor of an immediate start on the subway, to run east-west along midtown Bloor Street and Danforth Avenue, Bloor's easterly extension.

Chairman Frederick C. Gardiner told the executive that Finance Minister Fleming had eliminated any hope of federal government aid for the project and provincial government assistance was unlikely.

Metro's decision for an immediate start on the subway came because delays were reported costing taxpayers $26,300 a day. Estimated cost of the project has risen to nearly $195,000,000 from the original $189,600,000.

Khrushchev Doesn't Veto Ike's Offer

LONDON (Reuters) — Russian Premier Khrushchev told British Prime Minister William Simpson, said at a cal talks begin July 1 in Geneva, that Khrushchev was on methods of policing any possible future ban on nuclear tests.

President Eisenhower's proposal to hold a conference of disarmament experts in Moscow.

Grande Prairie in the Peace River district of northern Alberta was first settled about 1910.

PLANS TO REMARRY

Beaudoin Asks Papal Annulment

RENO, Nev. (CP)—Louis Beaudoin, former Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, says he will seek a papal annulment of his marriage so he will be able to remarry within the Roman Catholic Church.

Nevada divorce from Margaret Wespiher Beaudoin Tuesday. He said that he would go through a quiet service in Nevada and later a Roman Catholic ceremony elsewhere with Alice Outram, 22-year-old Ottawa blonde. The Catholic ceremony would come after the papal annulment of his first marriage, he said.

Miss Outram, daughter of Wing-Comdr. and Mrs. John Charles Outram, is a Presbyterian. Beaudoin said he will not ask her to become a convert.

Beaudoin, a lawyer, also said he will live in Nevada.

about five feet," he said. "We tried to steer around one of them when it suddenly opened up in a giant whirlpool."

"It turned us broadside into the main current but our luck got us through."

The second canoe suffered a similar fate and reporter Courtenay Tower of Victoria, costumed as John Stuart, had to bail desperately to keep the craft afloat. The third canoe passed through without mishap.

They went through Cottonwood Canyon after unloading all supplies. The expedition is due Saturday at Lillooet.

Full Details Announced For Visit of Princess

No Major Change In Royal Tour

The complete itinerary for Princess Margaret's visit to B.C. next month was released today by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

The premier explained no major changes have been made in the tentative routing outlined earlier, despite protests from Vancouver that Victoria and the Okanagan were being favored with longer royal visits.

The premier explained Victoria and Kelowna were chosen as points where the princess would most require a rest in her tour.

The Victoria visit extends from July 12 to July 16.

Premier Bennett said the fact the rest periods occur in the capital and the premier's home riding, were beyond his control.

The choice was "not by the premier," he said.

He said the rest periods became necessary after the federal government asked the royal tour be extended two weeks in order that prairie and eastern points could be visited.

MORE REST HERE

"This much longer, more intensive program, meant more rest would be required during the B.C. section of the tour."

"This will be especially so following Princess Margaret's arrival in Victoria, after her long flight from England, and also during the middle of her B.C. travels, when she has specifically requested a weekend of rest in the Okanagan."

Premier Bennett said the itinerary "not only will afford the maximum opportunity for the princess to see our province and its people, but for the people to see Her Royal Highness."

"Unlike previous visits by members of our royal family, which have been limited to Vancouver and Victoria areas, this one is extended through British Columbia, to comply with Her Royal Highness' personal request to see as much as possible of our province."

KOOTENAYS DROPPED

He added, the provincial government regrets the Princess will not be visiting the Kootenays "as originally planned by us."

He said the reason was solely because airfields available for the trip to the Kootenays were not considered adequate "by authorities other than those in B.C."

There was speculation earlier, the Kootenays were avoided as a security measure, due to recent terrorist activities there.

"The entire tour has been planned with a view to the least possible officialdom," he said.

The premier said the tour allows the princess generous "free time" for drives around various centres, or so "she can do as she wishes, and allow many opportunities for people, principally the children, to see her, and many opportunities for her to see the people."

Victoria, as the seat of provincial government will provide the longest session of hand shaking and curtsying of the entire trip.

At 10.40 a.m., Monday, July 14, the princess will visit the Legislative Buildings.

WILL MEET 170

There, a total of 170 cabinet ministers, members of the legislature, deputy ministers, holders of the Victoria Cross, centennial committee members and

Fresh Try By Ottawa On Strike

The federal government is to try again to settle the B.C. coast steamship strike.

Justice Minister Davie Fulton said in Vancouver today search for a "compromise or agreement" between the Seafarers' International Union and Canadian Pacific will be made "at another level."

He explained that Eric Taylor, the federal government mediator who failed to bring the striking seamen and the CPR together at the local level, will put the situation before federal labor department officials in Ottawa.

"The government is extremely concerned," Mr. Fulton said. "I have seen people interested in and affected by the strike. It comes at a bad time for Victoria centennial celebrations."

Acting Labor Minister Ellen Fairclough also said in Ottawa further efforts to settle the strike will be made.

CPR REJECTS BID

Meanwhile it was learned unofficially today that J. N. Fraime, vice-president of the CPR's western region, rejected a suggestion Tuesday that the company offer the union pay increases amounting to 16 per cent.

This is double the long-standing CPR offer. The union has been asking for 25 per cent, but business agent Norman Cunningham is understood to have been sympathetic to a slight reduction in the SIU demand.

Both Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Fraime met separately with Works Minister W. N. Chant Tuesday, but no statement was issued of the outcome.

However, Mr. Fraime has termed the talks "worthwhile," while Richard Greaves, who attended the morning meeting as secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers, told the Times he was "pessimistic" that the Chant meetings will have any effect on the strike.

GROUP DISAPPOINTED

In Victoria, members of Mayor Percy Scurren's citizens' action committee were not optimistic about the outcome of a meeting Tuesday with the B.C. cabinet.

Hugh Stephen, president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said today, "I can't say the meeting gave us any new hope. The cabinet has been doing as much as it can within its scope, but now it looks as though we have come to the end of the road. We must try and salvage as much as we can. Federal intervention is now the only solution."

'Watchdog' UN Team To Lebanon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The UN Security Council decided today to speed an international watchdog team to strife-torn Lebanon to seal off its borders with the United Arab Republic.

A threatened Soviet veto did not materialize.

The observer group would have the mission of guaranteeing that no arms or other military aid reaches Lebanese rebels from the UAR.

Lebanon had complained to the 11-nation council that President Nasser was threatening Lebanese independence by meddling in its internal politics. The UAR had denied the charges.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Military sources here said Lebanese army artillery pounded the eight-century-old citadel in Tripoli to ruins today in the biggest battle in the city since the Lebanese rebellion started there more than a month ago.

RCAF Role 'Front Line' —Pearkes

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Pearkes said today RCAF squadrons would be the "front-line troops" in event of air attack on North America.

He said United States Air Force squadrons would come to the assistance of the RCAF if the task was greater than the RCAF could carry out.

This was the first indication that U.S. Air Force interceptors would not go into action immediately in event of air attack from polar regions over Canadian territory.

Mr. Pearkes spoke in the continuing Commons debate on ratification of the Canada-U.S. air defence agreement.

During the debate on NORAD Tuesday night, Gen. Pearkes disclosed that no RCAF squadrons have yet been allocated to the command at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Opposition Leader Pearson joined in Tuesday's opening round on the matter, which has been causing contention since last summer.

The prime minister, in a long, detailed outline of the agreement, said NORAD "will not and cannot start wars."

Mr. Pearson said the Liberals don't doubt for a moment the need and desirability of collective defence.

The NORAD agreement is not a surrender of Canadian sovereignty, but an example of making Canadian sovereignty "work for us" by joining with the U.S. for a strong collective security, Mr. Pearson said.

The Liberal party demanded a chance for Parliament to examine the agreement because of the procedures the government followed in bringing it about.

But the way the government had handled the agreement over the past months might be described as a "comedy of confusion and contradiction."

IKE SCORES MAJOR WIN ON FOREIGN TRADE BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives, handing President Eisenhower a major legislative victory, today passed and sent to the Senate a bill continuing the reciprocal trade program for another five years.

In doing so, it crushed an attempt to limit the program to two years and restrict the president's trade and tariff-making authority.

Angry de Gaulle Warns Insurgents

PARIS (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle bluntly told defiant insurgents in Algeria today to quit interfering in government and reprimanded his military commander there.

De Gaulle sent a sharp note to Gen. Raoul Salan after a cabinet meeting devoted mainly to foreign affairs.

A cabinet spokesman said one decision was to invite U.S. State Secretary Dulles to Paris next month. Other sources said the talks might be broadened to include Prime Minister Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Tentative date was given as July 5.

While these talks would concern the Western alliance, de Gaulle's most immediate problem was to restore his authority over Algeria.

De Gaulle replied sharply to a resolution by the All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety opposing his plan for local elections in Algeria and condemning parliamentary government in France.

RAPS USE OF NAME

De Gaulle criticized Salan for letting his name be used as approving the committee action, even though Salan later disavowed the resolution.

In Washington, the state department declined to say whether de Gaulle's invitation has been received. Diplomatic sources, however, reported an invitation had been forwarded to Dulles and might be discussed at Dulles' meeting there today with Macmillan.

Department officials privately pointed out that Dulles will accompany President Eisenhower on a visit to Ottawa July 8-10.

The possibility of a quick trip to Paris on July 5 before the journey to Canada cannot be excluded, officials said.

Tornado Death Swath Leaves Trail of Ruin

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP) — A tornado turned its fury on El Dorado late Tuesday, killing 14 persons and injuring 57.

The twister cut a swath 14 blocks long and a quarter of a mile wide along the southwest edge of this city of 12,000. It destroyed or damaged 150 homes.

It swept away four main electric power lines, plunging the city into darkness. Telephone lines were severed and municipal water mains broken in several places.

While doctors worked by the feeble light of candles and flashlights at El Dorado's only hospital, state militia helped police patrol the streets.

Th' way things are workin' out t'day, May flowers bring June showers.

SUBSIDY STUDY ASKED IN FERRY STRIKE

B.C. Senator Urges Arbitration

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Sidney J. Smith (L., British Columbia) today proposed a form of compulsory arbitration to end the West Coast strike tying up CPR vessels operating between Vancouver Island and the Mainland.

Senator Smith, speaking in the Senate throne speech debate also said if an investigation shows that the CPR cannot operate the service at a profit "consideration should be given to negotiating a satisfactory subsidy in order to revive the vital service."

"... It is my specific suggestion that Parliament should immediately pass a law extending the period of the collective agreement between the CPR and the Seafarers' International Union (CLC) until such time as the parties can agree upon the terms of a new collective agreement."

"This course was successfully followed by a previous administration when both our transcontinental railways went on strike and the trains began to run in a matter of a few days."

Senator Smith described the strike which started May 16, as "just terrible" and a "national calamity." He said it had already cost the Vancouver Island tourist industry more than $2,000,000.

Senator Smith said a Vancouver report that the CPR is considering a British offer to buy part of its West Coast steamship fleet "is the most alarming item in this gloomy story of the steamship tieup in British Columbia."

"It now is a tragedy to learn that sale of the Pacific Coast fleet of the CPR is being considered," he said.

'Not Guilty' Plea by B.C. Navy Officer

HALIFAX (CP) — Capt. Dudley King, 48, of Wilson's Landing, B.C. pleaded not guilty to a charge of negligently hazarding the Algonquin Jan. 26 when it collided off Bermuda with another destroyer, the Nootka.

The court martial opened before the judge advocate, Cmdr. H. C. Fern.

The ships were on manoeuvres when the crash occurred. Damage was slight. Capt. King is commander of the First Canadian Escort Squadron, headed by the Algonquin.

Gordon Black, a Halifax lawyer, is defence counsel while the prosecution is headed by Commodore J. V. Brock.

He accused the federal government of not taking the West Coast strike situation seriously.

"As evidence of this lack of interest, I would remind you that there are 18 government members—including three ministers from B.C. — who have shown no appreciable interest."

Sensor Smith said the terms of reference of federal mediator Eric Taylor are too restricted to enable him to bring about a settlement.

"If the government has a sincere desire to bring an end to this strike they will extend the terms of Mr. Taylor's commission so that he can deal with all disputes involved in the tieup."

He said press reports from the West Coast state that the CPR has been losing money on the operation.

"Perhaps they have been losing money. Perhaps they have been saving money during the weeks that their ships have been tied up and they may not be too anxious to see the strike settled."

Let us show you "New ways to Profit"

While You're at It Remember Gramps Too

June 15—a day to remember dad for the countless ways he remembers the rest of the family the other 364 days of the year.

But on Father's Day this year (and all the years to come), remember to remember grand-dad, too.

Every reason for honoring dad applies as well to the elder statesman of the family who is "father," too. And, after all he does have seniority!

It may be that grandpa does not expect to be remembered. On the surface at least, he seems self-effacing, apparently too modest to want to be the centre of attention, and ready to let the "youngsters" have their day.

There is also a distinct danger that as a man moves into these "retiring" years of his life, he will tend to withdraw into himself, thinking that he should turn over the stage to the younger set. However, this is contrary to his best interests!

As an example, too many "senior citizens" tend to grow careless about their appearance, although looking good, dressing well is one of the best ways for them to keep up an enthusiasm for living!

With this in mind, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear recommends that gifts of handsome wearing apparel for grand-dad as well as dad are the answer to keeping up their appearance and their spirits.

In selecting wearables, make it a gift with a lift... something from the "fountain of youth" and even a bit on the adventurous side.

Gay Attire Will Make Him Feel Gay

Dashing sport shirts—short sleeves; gay colors and exciting patterns are invitations for grand-dad to get up... get out and be doing!

And grandpa goes along with this notion, for he has more time and also the inclination for enjoying our modern day leisure living.

Or a pair of shorts for grandpa?

"Don't be funny," somebody will say! But wait a minute! On the beach... in a sailing dinghy or out where the mountain breezes play... he'll love the idea. Try him—and see.

Dress right, American men are told. Dress right and you are set for a career that moves forward just as you look forward.

But how does grand-dad fit into this wise and persuasive pattern? Where is he heading? For leisure, for relaxation and maybe some meditation and re-collecting?

The fact is, grandpa has really just begun to live—and he'll be the first to tell you. He wants to look the part, too.

So, sons and daughters, and grandsons and grand-daughters will do well before June 15 to check over all the items in grandpa's wardrobe and make sure it's up to mark and complete.

Father's Day Contest Offers Bikes Prizes

Here is an easy contest for children no older than 15 years of age. Just answer the question, "I love my Dad because..."

Sixty new bicycles will be given as prizes to the winners of the National Father's Day Contest, in which humorous and small children's answers will be weighed equally with those of teen-agers.

The age of the contestants will be considered, and older people are not allowed to enter the contest, nor to assist the entrants or compose the answers, which must be 35 words or less in length.

The contest will close on Saturday, June 14, as Father's Day is June 15, and entries must be placed in entry boxes that will be located in each men's wear store. Additional forms will be available at any of these stores.

Winners will be notified and a list of all the winners will be supplied to each store on July 15. The opinions of the judges will be final.

Give Dad Gift He Can Wear Just to Show Him You Care

Just for fun, let's flip the calendar pages back to June 10, 1910—the first official Father's Day.

The temperature is soaring—golly—it's going to be "a scorcher"... But a good day for a picnic!

Sure! There's a family group having a picnic down by the lake—let's take a look.

What's Dad wearing? He must be sweltering in that wool blazer. He's wearing a long-sleeved, heavy silk white shirt and bow tie, too. And a hat!—at least it's straw. My, he does look rather dashing in his white wool trousers and all—but on a picnic!

Yes, that was a typical outfit in 1910—but this is 1958—and my, how things have changed!

Though lightweight versions of Father's 1910 styles are fashion-right this year... you wouldn't find a modern Dad wearing them on a picnic.

Let's set the calendar forward a bit now. It's Father's Day, 1958, same place. Could be the same family... but look at this Dad! He's wearing tapered slacks that are as bright, bold and modern as a brilliant Picasso painting. His shirt is a red that would ignite any fashion scene.

Cool? You bet! His slacks are a lightweight cotton or an "air-conditioned" wool, his shirt is "air conditioned" too, in a breeze-weight knit. Even his shoes, bright canvas, are cool and so comfortable.

This season does, indeed, mark a new era in men's sportswear. Never before has color... vivid, exciting, oftentimes wild colors... been seen in such profusion. Never before have so many styles—designed especially or cool, comfortable fun—been shown for men.

The big splash of color penetrates deep into the wide selection of beach and backyard wear. Pants go to all lengths... from the most brief of swim trunks to "bongo" pants

"HIS" PIPE MERITS careful thought in its selection, according to the Pipe and Tobacco Council. Large or small bowls, long or short stems, straight or curved shanks offer a wide selection! The pipe smoker always welcomes a new pipe, especially one chosen with his own taste in mind!

Casual outfitting for summer even follows the male into town. Stripes flash across the sports more attention... with details of slanted, leather-piped pockets, waists tailored to do without belts or belts attached to the slacks.

So, if Dad's summer sportswear is not up-to-date, help make him the "man of the hour" this Father's Day—with a gift of adventurous sportswear.

Chamois Rag Useful Gadget

Made from selected sheepskins, chamois is specially tanned in oil to produce a high gloss on painted and glass surfaces. And, used with ordinary soaps and water, a genuine chamois soaks up all layers of dust and grime from the car surface.

So the next time the family car needs a good going-over, father can arm himself with a pail of clean soapy water, a clean genuine chamois, and in a short time the chariot will look as good as new.

Many Fatherly Duties

Pardon the comparisons—but Pop, are you as paternal as a water bug... as devoted as a chimp... as helpful as a bird?

Don't be too quick to answer... they are all fine Fathers—but perhaps not as fine as you!

Papa water bug, for instance, carries the eggs Mama lays on his wings until they hatch. Fish fathers also carry the eggs, though in the mouth or tail.

How's about it, Dad—can you boast of being better than the birds 'n' the bees?

Put Dad on top of the World

It's Easy Catering To Pater

So you want to give Dad a new suit, but you don't know the correct size? Solve your problem with a gift certificate from his favorite men's store.

However, if you know the size, but you don't know exactly what kind of a suit to buy—here are a few fashion notes to guide you.

Returning this spring stronger than ever is navy—the one time classic best-seller which was ousted from first place by grey for a number of years.

GLEN PLAIDS

Pattern interest renews its importance this season, i.e. Overplaids, glen plaids and broken herringbone in a wide range of suit shades are favored. Texture-wise, watch for a raised surface pattern that emerges for the first time in men's spring and summer tropical all-wool suiting.

There's a "silhouette" choice for men, too, this season. Outstanding is the "Canadian" look emphasizing some shoulder padding and indentation in the cut of the suit jacket.

Although the three-button suit jacket is most popular, there are two- and four-button models to satisfy the suit preferences of all men. The "ivy" type remains for the youngest businessmen.

This summer the coolest, lightest 8½ and 9-ounce wool suit weights should keep men comfortable when temperatures soar.

Successful businessmen prefer the wonderful tropical all-wool worsted business suits because of the ability of the wool fibre to hold its shape and retain that unmissable look throughout an active day.

TOPCOAT IDEAL

Looking ahead to fall, perhaps you'll want to give Dad a topcoat. Style leader is the single-breasted or fly-front model in lightweight wool. It can be worn for business or dress.

A more formal boulevard air for town is the set-in sleeve as compared to the more easy-going raglan-type sleeve for the suburbs.

Topcoat wardrobes interpret soft herringbones, smoother chevrons and covers in softer, muted tones. Coats are shorter in length.

Using your own good taste together with these notes on trends, your gift of a suit or topcoat for Dad should be most "fitting".

Gift Tie Row Pleases Dad

This year, the fashion wheel is turning from informality in men's afternoon wear to more formal dark wear. And men's neckwear is following the trend.

No longer will the all-purpose silk twill do the trick. Special ties are worn on special occasions. Elegant afternoon ties are taking centre front in elaborate, though conservative, patterns of stripes and scattered confetti squares.

While their colors glow, the main fashion interest is in their texture—in the expert weaving of tone-on-tone, or near-matching shades whose gleaming surfaces are due to the lustre of pure silk.

For even more gala affairs, just short of dinner jacket aptness, a discreet shimmer of metallic is acceptable.

So—though this may be the age of casual-living, an elegant air is its necessary and welcome counterpart.

Men can't come to gala gatherings looking as though they had just left the breakfast table—and what's more, the ladies won't let them; especially when they choose Dad's Day gift ties!

HELL LOVE THESE TIES—Set of three summer-weight, all-wool knit ties make perfect knots. In sunny colors. Ties by Churchill Weavers.

Elegant Formal Attire Will Aid Dad's Spirit

If dad's social calendar indicates a need for formal attire—why not make that your gift to him on Father's Day?

Today, tuxedos are comfortable like business suits... leaving the wearer free and relaxed to have a good time.

In the summer scene belongs the white tropical wool worsted dinner jacket with either navy or black trousers.

Or, you might select the new washable white dinner jacket made of 50% Dacron and 50% Orlon acrylic fiber blend. It can be worn after the first several machine washings with no ironing needed. Later slight hand touches will perk it up. The jacket is fully lined and underlined.

In both the summer dinner jacket and navy or black tuxedos, narrow shawl and angled shawl collars are favored. Slim-line trousers with the plain unpleated front complete the picture of elegance.

And don't forget to include a bright accessory or two with your formal... cummerbund, formal shirt or jewelry... gifts dad will treasure!

Auto Accessory Gift Will Help

If dad's keen on cars—likes 'em sharp, smart, spic 'n' span... an auto gift is what you ought to give him!

Whether he's a sportster, truckster, sedaner, coupeneer or wagoner—there's a wide variety of transportation "trifles" that are most giftable.

Very dandy is the handy dash dispenser—for holding, within easy reach, cigarettes, lights, sunglasses, glasses, tissues, maps, pencils and memo pads.

New seat covers are most suitable. Needed new tires show you're concerned for his safety. Outside rear view mirrors back up the strength of your concern.

Cleaning equipment makes the chore easier. And an even better idea is to use them first yourself—dad gets a clean car along with all the convenient tools.

DANCING FOR DAD
The rock'n'roll may be a bit too much for Dad... but if you think he's willing to learn the more subdued dances—give him a gift of a series of dancing lessons.

Yup, Father is Unsung Hero

Poor ole Pop! Musically speaking, he's missing—or at least almost.

Everyone is honored with songs—even "the hound dog." And Mother-music is multitudinous—so why not "Dear Old Dad"?

Only two tunes, actually referring to parental Pop, pop into mind—"Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now" and "Oh, My Papa."

Daddy deserves mention in a couple of other titles—but "Daddy" is not quite the one we had in mind: "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," and "Daddy-O," a teen tune.

So, take a cue and give Dad his due—strike a note or two to say Pop, "we love you."

Color Clues Will Aid

FAIR HAIR: Blue-grey is probably his best shade. The shirt color should carry some of the blue or grey with a subdued-in-mood tie.

BLACK HAIR: Oxford grey is his best suit color... cream color shirts, the best shirt hue.

GREY HAIR: No matter what his business, Dad should make it his business to wear dark blue suits, ties and bright white or white ground shirts.

BROWN HAIR: Dad's a natural for middle-grey suit color... blue shirts and deep-toned ties.

RED HAIR: He's the fellow who can wear grey, brown or green... or all these co-ordinated or with green predominant.

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

"Okay, Mr. Expert, let's have it! Give me the re-cap of today's game and why our boys blew it!"

Motorists who are tempted to pick up fawns which appear to be wandering helplessly by the roadside will be doing the animals and perhaps themselves a favor by leaving the little Bambis alone.

In almost every case, mothers of the seemingly abandoned young deer will be hidden nearby, waiting to take their offspring in tow when humans depart.

Not only do fawns have a better chance of survival in natural surroundings than in captivity, but it is illegal to have any wild animal in possession without a permit, which can be obtained only by registered zoos.

Inspector Bob Sinclair of the game branch has issued the annual reminder that game wardens will prosecute all persons found with fawns in their possession.

Maximum fine for the offence, incidentally, is $300.

Members of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association have again demonstrated that they are overwhelmingly in favor of abolishing the short seasons on antlerless deer that have been in effect at the end of regular deer-hunting seasons for the past few years.

Alarmed at the apparent scarcity of deer in southern portions of Vancouver Island, the sportsmen last December formed a special panel to investigate deer conditions in the Lower Island area and submit suggestions to the game club.

"Information collected over the past six months," says Dennis Hagar, secretary of the panel, "has convinced us that we are a lot more correct than we thought we were."

Supported by the Duncan fish and game group, the panel has suggested that a test area be established on Salt Spring Island and in that portion of Vancouver Island south of a boundary formed by the San Juan and Koksilah Rivers, in which only bucks would be legal game for at least one year.

To speed the study of deer conditions, the Victoria club has offered to put up to 100 men in the field on any weekend to assist game biologists in making deer counts and collecting information.

Asked by the game branch to recommend one of three alternatives—(1) a closed season on all deer; (2) a short two to five-day season on antlerless deer at the end of the regular shooting season; (3) a buck law—VFGPA members voted 75-5 in favor of a bucks-only season at a general meeting this week.

Support of Other Hunters Would Help

Although a meeting of Island game clubs endorsed the continuation of an antlerless season earlier this year, the thought here is that wishes of sportsmen in any sizeable area, if it is established they are shared by the majority of hunters, deserve careful consideration by the game branch.

Personally, I agree with biologists that, except in certain small areas, declines in deer populations are caused more by lack of food than by hunters' rifles. However the idea of a test area has considerable merit. It might not prove anything, but it could have tremendous value in fostering closer harmony between sportsmen and game officials.

Unfortunately, the game branch staff is too small to adequately supervise such an area and the only apparent method would be to deputize a number of sportsmen to watch hunters, which is a system that has never proved satisfactory.

But whether or not we are given a bucks-only law this year, the men who have waged the determined campaign to end shooting of does and fawns have earned a lot of respect. And if they get greater support from hunters who do not yet belong to registered game clubs, they must eventually win their battle.

It may or may not help the deer, but hunting only for bucks produces more satisfactory sport and develops a better brand of hunters.

Lansdowne Athletes Capture Track Title

Lansdowne Junior High School, with 99½ points, won the annual Inter-Junior High School track and field meet, completed Monday at Victoria High School.

Central Junior High was second, just two points back, while Oak Bay Junior High chalked up 86½ points to finish third.

Trailing were S. J. Willis, Esquimalt and Colquitz junior high schools.

Junior 'Rocks' Keep Rolling
Junior Shamrocks are still rolling in high gear.

Tuesday at Stevenson Park they won their eighth straight Senior "B" Lacrosse League game, bouncing Jokers, 10-4.

Victory gave them a commanding 10-point lead over Foul Bay Tugmen, who have played only five games.

Stu Smith's three-goal effort led the Rocks' attack, while Ron Marshall and George Wilson picked up two apiece.

Dave Baffles Bird Batters

Dave Murdoch went only two batters after perfection in the Victoria Babe Ruth League Tuesday night, chalking up a no-hit, no-run triumph as Evening Optimists took a 2-0 decision from Eagles at Beacon Hill Park.

Facing just 23 batters, Murdoch struck out nine and issued a single base on balls. The only other batter to reach first base was safe on an error.

The win moved Evening Optimists to within a half game of the second-place Eagles.

BACKDROP FOR ROYAL VISIT GARDEN PARTY

Strange backdrop for royal visit garden party July 14 is afforded by concrete and steel shell of new Government House. Garden party honoring visit of Princess Margaret is scheduled for the grounds in royal itinerary released today. Public works department is rushing construction but "guesstimates" of completion date favor late October. New Government House, replacing one which burned on same site in April, 1957, may cost $1,000,000. Teamsters' strike delayed project. (Times Photo by Halkett.)

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1958—PAGE 19

MONTE ROBERTS

So this man ups to me, and he says, you're a newspaperman, he says, you know all the answers.

So I ups to this man, and I says, to get answers, you have to have questions.

So he comes back at me and he says, so I have a question, the question is, what is Canada's national anthem?

So I says to him, why, any fool knows what is Canada's national anthem.

So he says to me, then tell me the answer.

And I says to him, I'm not just ANY fool, I'm a special kind of fool, so I don't know what is Canada's national anthem.

So this man goes away, muttering to himself, and I start going up to other people and asking them, what is Canada's national anthem.

So other people start answering me—after first looking at me as if I were the idiot child I am.

And some of the people say, why, Canada's national anthem is God Save the Queen, or God Save the King, as the case may be.

But other people say no, it says right here in this book, it says God Save the Queen is the national anthem of Great Britain and the colonies.

And Canada isn't a colony, these other people say, so how can God Save the Queen be the national anthem?

And still OTHER people say, why, O Canada is the national anthem, of course it is.

But other people say, why, the Maple Leaf Forever is Canada's national anthem, and our emblem dear, too.

Then I ups to some very learned people, and I ask them the same question, and they say, why there isn't actually any national anthem for Canada.

There is no law saying we have a national anthem, these learned people say.

It is only due to custom, or usage, or law, that we refer to the national anthem, these learned people tell me.

So I ask these learned people, which is our national anthem, through custom or usage, not law?

And they say, why, it all depends. God Save the Queen, maybe, or O Canada, or the Maple Leaf Forever.

So I am thinking of moving to Bulgaria (if there is any Bulgaria at the moment, a point on which I am not clear) where the national anthem is Bubbling Maritz, and no arguing about it.

And I wish that man had never upped to me and asked me that question.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Victoria police today reported they have located 82-year-old Peter Kritz, who vanished early Sunday from the home of his son, R. Kritz, 634 Garbally.

The elderly man, who arrived here on May 28 for a visit, has returned to his home at Grassland, Alta.

Eighteen members of Victoria Chamber of Commerce will seek seats in election of directors June 17.

Nine directors to serve for a two-year period will be elected from D. R. Abbott, H. Barnes, W. G. Courtney, G. I. Edgell, G. Gregory, J. V. Harbord, D. W. Howell, M. A. Kent, S. Lane, A. Leith, K. C. Murphy, F. A. A. Norton, Jr., R. J. Wride, W. H. Yardley, E. Peden, S. Swetnam, B. B. Tingley and J. C. Thow.

An outstanding color photographer from the University of New York, Mrs. Helen Manzer, will give an illustrated lecture at Victoria College, at 8.15 p.m. Tuesday, June 17.

A few tickets are still available.

Mrs. Manzer is passing through Victoria on her way to conduct some workshops in California, and tickets for her lecture on color photography are available only by phoning or writing to the registrar of Victoria College.

Meeting of the Nova Scotia Club scheduled to be held tonight at 721 Courtney Street has been cancelled.

A new venue will be announced by the executive.

Dr. John J. Glynn, of Montreal, was appointed assistant medical health officer by Victoria-Esquamalt Union Board of Health Tuesday.

Dr. Glynn, who has a post-graduate degree in public health, will begin his new duties Aug. 18, starting at a salary of $619 a month.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Would you please be good enough to advise me whether or not it is customary for a fox-glove plant to reach a height of 7' 6"??—E.E.

A. It is not common, though the plant has been known to reach six to seven feet in height. If the fox-glove is growing under a shaded tree, this is a favorable condition which may account for the height, as the plant is a "woodland" growth that responds best under such circumstances.

RESIGNATION of Arnold Webb, managing secretary of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, was announced "with great regret" by president Hugh Stephen today. Mr. Webb ends a three-year association with the chamber at the end of July to take up an undisclosed appointment. Mr. Stephen said "His enthusiasm, hard work and ability have brought the chamber to the highest peak in its history." Search for successor is under way.

Duncan Officer Appointed CO, HMCS Jonquiere

Lt.-Cmdr. E. V. P. Sunderland, 34, of Duncan has been appointed commanding officer of the RCN Pacific Command frigate Jonquiere, naval headquarters announced today.

He will take command Monday when Jonquiere is recommissioned after an extensive refit.

Lt.-Cmdr. Sunderland has been serving at Ottawa on the staff of the director of undersea warfare.

JUST TWO SECONDS OUT

RCMP Sergeant Wins $100 For Bike Race Estimate

Sgt. W. D. "Bill" Johnson, RCMP, 2469 Foul Bay Road, today was named winner of the Times centennial bike race estimating contest.

He wins 100 centennial silver dollars for making the closest estimate to the actual winning time in the race last Saturday.

Sgt. Johnson, who is in Vancouver this week, was only two seconds out on his estimate.

Bob Tetzlaff's winning time was 4 hours, 29 minutes, 42 seconds.

The sergeant's estimate was 4 hours, 29 minutes, 40 seconds.

Most of the 3,235 entries in the contest were in the four-hour-plus range. There were 33 entries in the 29-minute range, and 55 entries in the 30-second bracket.

Second closest guess came from Gordon More, 3803 Merimann, who estimated 4 hours, 29 minutes and 39.35 seconds, but there was only one prize.

Estimates ranged all the way from a little over one hour to 112 hours.

'Burned Own Auto To Do Penance'

Doukhobor Committed for Trial On Charge of Danger, Nuisance

A Doukhobor was committed for trial in County Court Tuesday after evidence was given at a preliminary hearing he deliberately set fire to his car because he wanted to do "penance" for doing harm to other people.

Nick Konkin, 36, of 2417 Cedar Hill, was charged with committing a common nuisance at Island View Beach and endangering the safety of the public by setting fire to a car.

The hearing was held before Magistrate A. I. Thomas in Central Saanich police court.

Konkin's car, a 1949 Chevrolet, was a total loss after Central Saanich fire fighters extinguished the blaze on the morning of May 14.

It was parked on the beach at the end of Telegraph Road. Central Saanich police chief Frederick L. Brownlee said he found Konkin standing near the burning car.

"He told me he poured some oil on it and set fire to the car," he said. "The accused said he had insurance on it but that was not the reason why he set fire to the car."

Chief Brownlee quoted Konkin as saying: "I have done harm to other people by protecting my property. So I have done penance for the wrong I have done to others."

The accused made no attempt to leave the scene of the fire, he said.

Percy M. Little, operator of a concession near the beach, who witnessed the fire, said he did not consider the blaze endangered anyone.

There was no one around, he said, except firemen who arrived later to put out the fire. Some of the tires exploded.

H. L. Dean, Vancouver counsel for Konkin, asked the magistrate to dismiss the charge on the grounds that the fire had not endangered the lives of others.

Donald Anderson, prosecutor, countered with the argument that the fire was a potential danger to the eight or 10 firemen who put out the blaze. The gas tank could have exploded, he said.

Magistrate Thomas felt there was sufficient evidence to commit Konkin to a higher court. Konkin is married and has two children.

The accused did not disclose to police the harm he had done to other people which prompted his action.

Lake Plane Ban Asked by Police

Demand Comes as Sequel To Tragedy; Probe Slated

Barring of all float planes from Elk Lake was demanded today by Saanich Police Chief Bert Pearson.

He made the appeal as Saanich police continued investigation of the mishap Monday that took the life of John Frederick Morrison, 15, of 620 Huxley.

Chief Pearson said aircraft using the lake were endangering the lives of swimmers. Numerous complaints have been made in the past month regarding planes on the lake, some of which have taxied on to public beaches.

"Only last week, I received a report of a plane beaching at Happyland," he said. "There have been others who have come and gone."

Many youngsters swim the length of the lake and could be hit by a float plane, he said.

"You can't tell me a plane travelling at 125 miles an hour can see a boy swimming in the water. It just isn't right."

However, Dr. T. G. How, district director of air services for the department of transport in Vancouver, said Elk Lake is not a restricted area for private float planes.

"Applications for a licence to operate commercial planes from Elk Lake have been rejected in the past but there are very few lakes barred to private planes and Elk Lake is not one of them," he said.

Dr. How added that his department is "very interested" in the Elk Lake tragedy and will conduct an inquiry.

REPORT AWAITED

"But we haven't decided yet whether it will be a formal or informal inquiry. We're waiting for the police report. If the cause of the accident is obvious, the inquiry will be informal and may involve only review and adoption of the police report," he said.

An inquest into Morrison's death will be held Friday. Any further action by police will not come until after the inquest, the chief said.

Chief witness at the inquest is expected to be Robert Turnbull, 16, of 3943 Rowland, who survived the accident.

The moored aircraft's engine was started when the two boys were playing with controls in the cockpit. Morrison was killed by the whirling propeller. The aircraft is owned by Victor Dawson, president of the Victoria Float Plane Owners' Association.

New Request For Meat Inspection

Agriculture Minister N. P. Steacy will be asked again to establish meat inspection facilities by his department to cover southern Vancouver Island region.

The Victoria-Esquamalt Union Board of Health Tuesday made the decision on the recommendation of E. S. Gropp, chief sanitary inspector. "This should not be a job just for Victoria and Esquamalt. It should be handled by the department of agriculture as a regional matter," he told the board.

The board adopted a proposal by Ald. Hugh Ramsay that the board try to enlist the support of surrounding municipalities for its demand.

Esquamalt Coun. G. K. Sammon said he would broach the matter at an intermunicipal committee today.

Mr. Gropp pointed out that if Victoria and Esquamalt passed by-laws prohibiting sale of uninspected meat within their jurisdictions, people could still purchase uninspected meat direct from farmers outside the two municipalities.

An earlier request for meat inspection by the board brought a reply from Mr. Steacy that the present situation is not directly contrary to provincial statutes.

Amalgamation Hopes Raised By Grant Plan

Bigger Centres Would Gain Much

Amalgamation prospects brightened today in the wake of a disclosure that the provincial government may revamp its system of grants to municipalities. (See Page 9 for earlier story)

Speculation is that the government will replace the present sliding scale with a straight percentage formula for distributing per capita grants.

The sliding scale "is loaded in favor of smaller municipalities," Mayor Percy Scurrell said.

At present, the scale ranges from a $16 per capita grant for the first 3,500 people in a community to $6.50 for those in excess of 42,000.

SIZE NOT COUNTED

One suggestion is that this might be replaced by a straight $9.90 per capita grant to all communities regardless of size.

If carried out, it would raise Victoria's provincial assistance by $64,586 over this year's total of $475,796. Saanich also would benefit but Esquimalt and Oak Bay would lose money.

That's where amalgamation comes in.

The suggested change would eliminate the per capita grant loss suffered by an enlarged community under the present system.

However, Premier Bennett today said that the change may be along entirely different lines with complete abolition of the per capita system and substitution of aid for specific fields, such as road and arterial highway construction, not now covered by present formulas for a variety of municipal costs ranging from education to welfare.

But, regardless of what method is used, it appears clear that the government will try to meet objections from larger municipalities that they are being treated unfairly. That will hearten amalgamation proponents.

Saanich Candidate Ineligible

Robert J. Patch, who announced on Monday that he would be a candidate for the seat on Saanich council left vacant by the resignation of George Chatterton, said today he is ineligible.

He found that although he bought property at 1716 Cedar Avenue in October, 1956, there was not sufficient time for his name to be on the December, 1956, voters' list in Saanich.

It is required that the names of candidates be on the two previous lists.

"It is disappointing to have to withdraw," he said, "but by December 1 I will be eligible, and I'm looking forward to running for a council seat at that time."

Mr. Patch, an unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate in the 1953 provincial election, is a partner in an automotive firm.

IN RETAIL, HOSPITAL FIELDS

Pharmacists in Demand

Young men and women in search of a career would do well to consider training as pharmacists in view of the shortage that exists all across Canada. Dr. A. W. Matthews, head of the faculty of pharmacy at the University of British Columbia, said here today.

"There is a growing demand for pharmacists in the retail and hospital fields," said Dr. Matthews, one of some 400 delegates attending the 67th annual meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association of British Columbia, at the Empress Hotel today.

"Students interested in manufacture and research have plenty of opportunity, particularly in eastern Canada."

Dr. Matthews said between 42 and 45 students take the four-year pharmacy course at UBC every year, but the faculty is equipped for a maximum of 60.

In future, however, B.C. students may have to study longer. A proposal to increase the course from four to five years, as in the state of Washington, is under discussion today.

Taking part with Dr. Matthews are J. G. Moir of Victoria, a lecturer at the UBC

FRIDAY CEREMONY

Flowers To Launch Ferry Run

Handing over of a bouquet of flowers from Butchart's Gardens will signal the start of Washington State Ferries' new summer run between Victoria and Port Angeles at 9 a.m. Friday.

May Queen Mary Gibson will present the bouquet to Mayor of Port Angeles, Mrs. Nathan Richardson, while a guard of honor composed of the 24th Medium Anti-Aircraft Regiment will play appropriate music.

Inauguration of the service will be attended by Public Works Minister W. N. Chant and Hugh Stephen, president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

The ship's return at 12.30 p.m. will be greeted by a cascade of water from fireboats and barges.

The streamlined ferry, Kalkala, will make four trips daily in each direction on the regular summer schedule. Service on the international route between Sidney and Anacortes will be stepped up, also starting Friday, to three round trips a day on weekdays and two round trips on Sunday.

Petitioners Battle Over Zoo Closing

A "battle of petitions" has started in Wellington, near Nanaimo, over closure or retention of the Hertel Zoo, where a little girl was killed recently by a lioness.

A meeting of the Wellington Ratepayers' Association was told that more residents favor retaining the private zoo than are urging its closure.

The association has named four delegates to interview Minister Earle C. Westwood as a follow-up to a petition urging closure of the zoo. The petition was signed by 175 people.

Mrs. Vida Williams, a near neighbor of the Hertels, said 58 of 200 signatories of a counter resolution supporting retention live within a one-mile radius of the zoo.

Swim to Mainland Proposed if Boat Escort Provided

Douglas Rivette, Victoria long distance swimmer, has offered to swim from Nanaimo to Horseshoe Bay on the mainland if Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce will provide him an escort boat.

Rivette, a Victoria printer, said he does not seek a sponsor for the swim, but wishes a boat in which his wife and trainer can accompany him.

A deaf mute, Mr. Rivette has made several unsuccessful attempts to swim Juan de Fuca Strait, and first tried to swim Georgia Strait last year.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This Woman Is Happy At Home; Some Aren't

I enjoy the letters I receive from readers. I get all kinds of questions and viewpoints through the mail. The letter before me gives us food for thought:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I cannot understand why many housewives are bored. I worked for 10 years, and it was a hectic life, with never enough time for many things I wanted to do. I lived in a rush and was always tired, too tired to enjoy my friends or family. Then, because of poor health, I had to stay at home.

"I must admit that it took me about a year to adjust and at first I thought I could not get along without the extra money. Now I have learned to live on my husband's salary, and as to being bored, I am enjoying the time I now have to spend on my home and with my friends. I sew, bake, work in the garden, and have time for social life and my family and have made so many new friends.

"My family tells me that I am an entirely different woman and so much nicer to live with since I am not rushed and tired all the time.

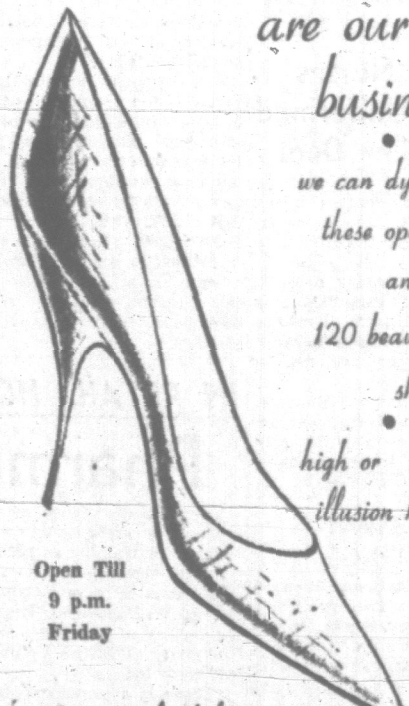

"Also, I find that I can save money in many different ways because I have more time to shop, sew, repair and save clothes. So, a woman who goes to work and must be a housewife too, only has left about half of what she makes. Now I wonder, 'was it ever worth it?'"

This is a very controversial question. I think that it depends on the individual woman, her husband, and her general setup. I have known some instances in which a woman with no talent or liking for housekeeping, but who was well-qualified for a good position, remained in the home because of her husband's feelings. The results were not very happy because she was completely frustrated.

However, any time two jobs are ruining a woman's health or disposition she should do something about it. It also is absolutely true that a woman must charge off overhead for any job she does outside of her home. What the reader said in her letter is so true! She had to cut corners because she did not have the time and energy to do many money-saving things

New clothes hampers now on the market are easier on clothes — and on housewives. Made of unbreakable polythene in a basketweave pattern, they are exceedingly strong, yet light to carry. Because the plastic is smooth and won't rust, chip or dent, the hamper cannot snag or stain clothes. These hampers are designed with openings in the basketweave to provide ventilation and guard against mildew.

Lemon croutons are tasty with canned green beans. Mix a tablespoon melted butter with a teaspoon each grated lemon rind and juice, and toss with crisp croutons. Mix gently with drained, heated beans.

Angry de Gaulle Warns Insurgents

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle bluntly told defiant insurgents in Algeria today to quit interfering in government and reprimanded his military commander there.

De Gaulle sent a sharp note to Gen. Raoul Salan after a cabinet meeting devoted mainly to foreign affairs.

De Gaulle criticized Salan for letting his name be used as approving the committee action, even though Salan later disavowed the resolution.

In Washington, the State Department declined to say whether de Gaulle's invitation has been received. Diplomatic sources, however, reported an invitation had been forwarded to Dulles and might be discussed at Dulles' meeting there today with Macmillan.

Department officials privately pointed out that Dulles will accompany President Eisenhower on a visit to Ottawa July 8-10. The possibility of a quick trip to Paris on July 5 before the journey to Canada cannot be excluded, officials said.

De Gaulle replied sharply to a resolution by the All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety opposing his plan for local elections in Algeria and condemning parliamentary government in France.

While these talks would concern the Western alliance, de Gaulle's most immediate problem was to restore his authority over Algeria.

RCAF Role 'Front Line' —Pearkes

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Pearkes said today RCAF squadrons would be the "front-line troops" in event of air attack on North America.

He said United States Air Force squadrons would come to the assistance of the RCAF if the task was greater than the RCAF could carry out.

This was the first indication that U.S. Air Force squadrons would not go into action immediately in event of air attack from polar regions over Canadian territory.

Mr. Pearkes spoke in the continuing Commons debate on ratification of the Canada-U.S. air defence agreement.

Arrives in City By Air July 12

The complete itinerary for Princess Margaret's visit to B.C. next month was released today by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

The premier explained no major changes have been made in the tentative routing outlined earlier, despite protests from Vancouver that Victoria and the Okanagan were being favored with longer royal visits.

The premier explained Victoria and Kelowna were chosen as points where the princess would most require a rest in her tour.

The Victoria visit extends from July 12 to July 16.

The Princess will fly to B.C. in a Bristol Britannia aircraft from London. She will land at Vancouver in this plane and transfer to a smaller plane for the short flight to Victoria.

Premier Bennett said the fact the rest periods occur in the capital and the premier's home riding, were beyond his control. The choice was "not by the premier," he said.

He said the rest periods became necessary after the federal government asked the royal tour be extended two weeks in order that prairie and eastern points could be visited.

MORE REST HERE

"This much longer, more intensive program, meant more rest would be required during the B.C. section of the tour."

"This will be especially so following Princess Margaret's arrival in Victoria, after her long flight from England, and also during the middle of her B.C. travels, when she has specifically requested a weekend of rest in the Okanagan."

Premier Bennett said the itinerary "... not only will afford the maximum opportunity for the princess to see our province and its people, but for the people to see Her Royal Highness."

"Unlike previous visits by members of our royal family, which have been limited to Vancouver and Victoria areas, this one is extended through British Columbia, to comply with Her Royal Highness' personal request to see as much as possible of our province."

KOOTENAYS DROPPED

He added, the provincial government regrets the Princess will not be visiting the Kootenays "... as originally planned by us."

He said the reason was solely because airfields available for the trip to the Kootenays were not considered adequate "by authorities other than those in B.C."

CPR Subsidy Study Urged In Senate

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Sidney J. Smith (L., British Columbia) today proposed a form of compulsory arbitration to end the West Coast strike tying up CPR vessels operating between Vancouver Island and the Mainland.

Senator Smith, speaking in the Senate throne speech debate also said if an investigation shows that the CPR cannot operate the service at a profit "consideration should be given to negotiating a satisfactory subsidy in order to revive the vital service."

"... It is my specific suggestion that Parliament should immediately pass a law extending the period of the collective agreement between the CPR and the Seafarers' International Union (CLC) until such time as the parties can agree upon the terms of a new collective agreement," Senator Smith said.

"This course was successfully followed by a previous administration when both our trans-

Fresh Try By Ottawa On Strike

The federal government is to try again to settle the B.C. coast steamship strike.

Justice Minister Davie Fulton said in Vancouver today search for a "compromise or agreement" between the Seafarers' International Union and Canadian Pacific will be made "at another level."

He explained that Eric Taylor, the federal government mediator who failed to bring the striking seamen and the CPR together at the local level, will put the situation before federal labor department officials in Ottawa.

"The government is extremely concerned," Mr. Fulton said. "I have seen people interested in and affected by the strike. It comes at a bad time for Victoria centennial celebrations."

IKE SCORES MAJOR WIN ON FOREIGN TRADE BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives, handing President Eisenhower a major legislative victory, today passed and sent to the Senate a bill continuing the reciprocal trade program for another five years.

In doing so, it crushed an attempt to limit the program to two years and restrict the president's trade and tariff-making authority.

London Dockers To End Walkout

LONDON (Reuters) — the file dockers endorsed Tuesday majority of London's 20,000 striking dock workers voted today to return to work by Monday, regardless of whether the meat strike that brought them out is settled by then. At meetings today rank-and-file dockers endorsed Tuesday night's decision of their leaders to go back and end the month-old stoppage that has crippled the port of London and held up thousands of tons of imported food. Meanwhile, London's other big strike by its 50,000 bus workers ran into its 38th day with no major developments.

The Kootenays were avoided as a security measure, due to recent terrorist activities there.

The entire tour has been planned with a view to the least possible officialdom," he said.

The premier said the tour allows the princess generous "free time" for drives around various centres, or so "she can do as she wishes, and allow many opportunities for people, principally the children, to see her, and many opportunities for her to see the people."

Victoria, as the seat of provincial government will provide the longest session of hand shaking and curtsying of the entire trip.

At 10.40 a.m., Monday, July 14, the princess will visit the Legislative Buildings.

WILL MEET 170

There, a total of 170 cabinet ministers, members of the legislature, deputy ministers, holders of the Victoria Cross, centennial committee members and their wives, will be presented.

Two hours later in the main lounge of the Empress Hotel, about 70 dignitaries from the judiciary and churches will be presented, prior to an official luncheon tendered by the provincial government.

The royal visit will be a signal for many other activities which are expected to be enjoyed as much by the people of the province as by the guest of honor.

In Victoria, these include an honor guard inspection and military royal salute, a parade of army, navy and air force units past a Causeway reviewing stand, and a garden party in the grounds of the incomplete Government House.

FLEET INSPECTION

There will be a special visit also to Veterans' Hospital. Highlight of the Victoria visit however, is expected to be the royal review of RCN and foreign ships. The princess will embark in HMCS Crescent for this event, but the anchored dressed ships will be visible to the public from various waterfront vantage points. At night they will be illuminated.

Elsewhere in the province, the princess will see B.C.'s history come to life. There will be a pageant and potlatch at Courtenay and a rodeo and authentic chuck wagon lunch at Williams Lake, complete with cowboys, Indians and cattle.

The princess will cut Nanaimo's five-ton birthday cake, visit oil wells at Fort St. John, ride on a PGE royal train, travel both in RCAF land and amphibious planes, making water landings at various Okanagan points. She will open a new bridge at Kelowna, a museum at New Westminster and the rebuilt Fort Langley.

During her final afternoon at Vancouver, she will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at University of British Columbia.

Aside from man-made spectacles, the princess will find her route arranged to provide B.C.'s best "spectacular," the wonders of its finest scenery.

STRIKE

Acting Labor Minister Ellen Fairclough also said in Ottawa further efforts to settle the strike will be made.

CPR REJECTS BID

Meanwhile it was learned unofficially today that J. N. Fraine, vice-president of the CPR's western region, rejected a suggestion Tuesday that the company offer the union pay increases amounting to 16 per cent.

This is double the long-standing CPR offer. The union has been asking for 25 per cent, but business agent Norman Cunningham is understood to have been sympathetic to a slight reduction in the SIU demand.

Both Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Fraine met separately with Works Minister W. N. Chant Tuesday, but no statement was issued of the outcome.

However, Mr. Fraine has termed the talks "worthwhile," while Richard Greaves, who attended the morning meeting as secretary of the National Association of Marine Engineers, told the Times he was "pessimistic" that the Chant meetings will have any effect on the strike.

GROUP DISAPPOINTED

In Victoria, members of Mayor Percy Scurren's citizens' action committee were not optimistic about the outcome of a meeting Tuesday with the B.C. cabinet.

Hugh Stephen, president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said today, "I can't say the meeting gave us any new hope. The cabinet has been doing as much as it can within its scope, but now it looks as though we have come to the end of the road. We must try and salvage as much as we can. Federal intervention is now the only solution."

Minor Injuries Treated First

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The American Society of X-ray Technicians was told Tuesday that after an A-bomb attack, those with minor injuries would get No. 1 priority so they could quickly be put back into the community to help others. Most seriously injured would be last to be treated.

West Military Might Praised by Macmillan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan described the West's military power today as so great and well organized that "no armed aggression against us is likely."

Macmillan made the statement in a speech prepared for a National Press Club lunch after two days of informal talks with President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles. He leaves for Ottawa tonight.

He said the talks were "a full and frank discussion, in the honest sense of the words."

"Anglo-American understanding and friendship stand today at a very high level," he said. "It is a fruitful partnership for the world no less than for ourselves."

While Macmillan emphasized that "our military defences are indeed in good shape," he added: "But I wonder if we are equally well equipped and organized to meet the challenge of Soviet propaganda, subversion and economic penetration, now gaining volume and momentum."

"That is one of the problems the president and I have been talking about during the last few days."

DISCUSS 'GREAT ISSUES'

Macmillan said he and the American leaders discussed "most of the great issues of the day."

"I think that on both sides we felt gratified and heartened by the extent to which our views and assessments coincided," Macmillan said, adding: "That does not mean to say, of course, that in every case we could decide a policy."

"It is naturally easier to decide where you want to go than just how to get there."

"That applies particularly to the economic questions."

Macmillan noted he and Dulles have agreed that new economic thinking is needed in the West to help the economies of newly-developed nations.

"I do not pretend to know exactly how we should do this; what instrument we should use," Macmillan said.

TASK FOR EXPERTS

"No doubt that is a matter for the experts. But it's the job of statesmen to organize and direct the experts' thinking."

"Perhaps in the course of this year we may see how we can agree how to do the things we want to do."

The prime minister, turning to a discussion of the Soviet Union, said: "Absence of free communication is indeed one of the greatest barriers between the Western and the Communist world."

He said it may be possible to reach partial agreements with Russia, but added: "There can be no real understanding and friendship until the Soviet Union has achieved sufficient self-confidence to abandon control and censorship of communications."

POINTS UP JAMMING

"It is an illuminating as well as a disagreeable fact that even now Russia should think it necessary to spend so much time, effort, ingenuity and finance on jamming broadcasts from the Western countries."

"As long as this kind of negative thinking prevails there can be no great optimism about the prospects for a wide or comprehensive settlement."

and Opposition Leader Pearson joined in Tuesday's opening round on the matter, which has been causing contention since last summer.

The prime minister, in a long, detailed outline of the agreement, said NORAD "will not and cannot start wars."

Mr. Pearson said the Liberals don't doubt for a moment the need and desirability of collective defence.

The NORAD agreement is not a surrender of Canadian sovereignty, but an example of making Canadian sovereignty "work for us" by joining with the U.S. for a strong collective security, Mr. Pearson said.

The Liberal party demanded a chance for Parliament to examine the agreement because of the procedures the government followed in bringing it about.

But the way the government had handled the agreement over the past months might be described as a "comedy of confusion and contradiction."

Second Toronto Subway

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Transit Commission chairman Allan Lamport said today the TTC will spend $8,000,000 "right away" to clear underground services along Toronto's second subway route.

Metropolitan Toronto executive Tuesday voted 4 to 3 in favor of an immediate start on the subway, to run east-west along midtown Bloor Street and Danforth Avenue, Bloor's easterly extension.

Chairman Frederick C. Gardiner told the executive that Finance Minister Fleming had eliminated any hope of federal government aid for the project and provincial government assistance was unlikely.

Metro's decision for an immediate start on the subway came because delays were reported costing taxpayers $26,300 a day. Estimated cost of the project has risen to nearly $195,000,000 from the original $189,600,000.

Khrushchev Doesn't Veto Ike's Offer

LONDON (Reuters) — Russian Premier Khrushchev told a British delegation he "does not reject" President Eisenhower's proposal to hold a conference of disarmament experts in Geneva, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

British peace council delegation, published Tuesday that technical talks begin July 1 in Geneva on methods of policing any possible future ban on nuclear tests.

Grande Prairie in the Peace River district of northern Alberta was first settled about 1910.
